Kokomo Has Second Night Of Violence

Racial Turmoil Subsides in Omaha; Cairo Still Has Curfew

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violence flared for a second straight night Friday in a predominantly Negro neighborhood in Kokomo, Ind., where an earlier cross burning resulted in the arrest of 11 white persons.

In Omaha, Neb., incidents of violence subsided after three nights of racial turmoil, bringing an outward calm to much of the Negro community.

A curfew remained in effect Friday in Cairo, Ill., where racial problems flared anew Thursday but no new incidents or arrests were reported.

Kokomo Mayor John Miller ordered a 10:30 p.m.-to-dawn curfew and about 200 state police riot troopers aided city police in patrolling the area.

Lt. Dave Levendowski, state police information officer, said several patrol cars were hit by sniper fire but no injuries were reported.

Police said 14 persons were arrested including four white men they said were found armed, sitting on a rooftop just outside the trouble area. The four were charged with riotous conspiracy and carrying guns without a permit. Charges against the others ranged from cufew violation to rioting.

Fire Chief Robert Barton said four businesses and a five-room residence were damaged by suspicious fires early today.

Cross Burning

The disorders stem from the cross burning Thursday morning in the heart of the Negro community. Thursday night Negro youths smashed watermelons at the site of the burning but there were no arrests.

In Omaha police chased reports of gunfire until early today but there was no further looting and burning of the sort that caused nearly $1 million damage in the past three days.

The unrest followed the fatal shooting of 14-year-old Vivian Strong, a Negro, by white patrolman James Loder who subsequently pleaded innocent to a manslaughter charge.

Apollo 11 Astronaut Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin Jr., accidentally ran into television actress Barbara Eden Friday and she gave him a good luck kiss for his moon-landing trip scheduled for next month. Bitter Strike At Carolina Hospital Ends

Settlement Causes Rev. Abernathy to End Fast in Jail

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The Medical College of South Carolina hospital ended its bitter three-month dispute Friday with striking Negro nonprofessional workers, and labor and civil rights leaders vowed to continue to work together to organize the nation's 2.5 milion hospital workers.

The agreement with local 1199-B of the Hospital and Nursing Home Workers Union, AFL-CIO, involved one of the two Charleston hospitals which have been struck for 102 days. Both hospitals continued operations. Charleston has two other hospitals.

A leading strike supporter, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, ended with the settlement a hunger strike which he had begun on his arrest June 20 on a charge of inciting a riot.

Still Unresolved

The dispute with the Charleston County Hospital, which employed 89 of 426 strikers, remained unresolved.

J. Mitchell Graham, chairman of the Charleston County Council, said still at issue in the strike against the county hospital is whether all of its striking workers shall be rehired—a key provision in the Medical College settlement.

GOP Liberals in Senate May Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, the assistant GOP leader in the Senate, has suggested a possible revolt of Republican liberals in declaring his split from party ranks on President Nixon's voting rights proposal.

The Pennsylvania Republican, at a news conference, was asked how long before GOP liberals would rebel in view of the voting bill and the softening of school desegregation guidelines reportedly being considered by the administration.

"Not very much," Scott said. "I'm simply serving notice. Period."

Dirksen's Plans

After Scott talked to newsmen Friday, Republican Senate leader Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said he would introduce the Nixon bill. Dirksen was instrumental in stopping the nomination of Dr. John Knowles for chief of national health affairs, a development which also rankles liberals.

Sen. Charles Mathias Jr. of Maryland, and, another of the dozen Republican liberals in the Senate, was asked about Scott's remarks on rebellion and he said, more strongly: "It's already begun."

Scott said instead of the Nixon measure, he preferred to push for a five-year extension of the 1965 Voting Rights Act. Negro leaders as well as several key congressional liberals of both parties also advocate extension.

The administration bill would have a nationwide application and substitute for the 1965 act which applies to only seven states of the deep south.

The Nixon proposal would disrupt and dilute the pattern of federal enforcement, Scott said. If extension is won, he said, he would support the Nixon bill as a separate piece of legislation.

Embarrassing

Scott said his break was difficult and somewhat embarrassing.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee's constitutional rights subcommittee, said the administration proposal is "at least free from the hypocrisy of the 1965 Act in that it applies to the whole country instead of just seven southern states."

Charles, Prince of Wales

Welsh Nationalists in Retreat

BY DONALD THOMPSON

CAERNARVON, Wales (AP) — Welsh nationalists seem to be in retreat as the hour draws near for Britain's future king to pledge himself to the service of Wales.

That's the impression a visitor gets in this town dominated by one of the most majestic castles in the world. It's hard to find a man or woman outspokenly hostile to Prince Charles.

In fact, Caernarvon, founded 2,000 years ago as a fortified outpost of the Roman Empire is behaving today like a blushing bride. It's in love with bonnie Prince Charles, the 20-year-old Englishman who will be invested as Prince of Wales in a great royal ceremony Tuesday.

Throne Revered

Most of Caernarvon's 9,000 citizens, speak Welsh, think Welsh and act Welsh. They feel their town, rather than grimey Cardiff, should be the capital of Wales. Yet they revere the British throne.

This has always been a royalist town springing from an ancient belief that Roman emperors first endowed the place with a special status, a practice followed by kings down the centuries.

Now, with the investiture of Charles only three days away, few nationalists would dare to preach violence against the English in Caernarvon's pubs and cafes.

Behind Bars

"I have been in many countries where an event such as Tuesday's investiture would automatically mean that anyone the least suspect would be rounded up and put behind bars," says Leslie Thomas, a novelist.

"Sickened though I am by the thought of anything that smells of a police state, I honestly wish it would happen here, then the true Welsh people could get on with their day of carnival without having to look fearfully over their shoulders," he said.

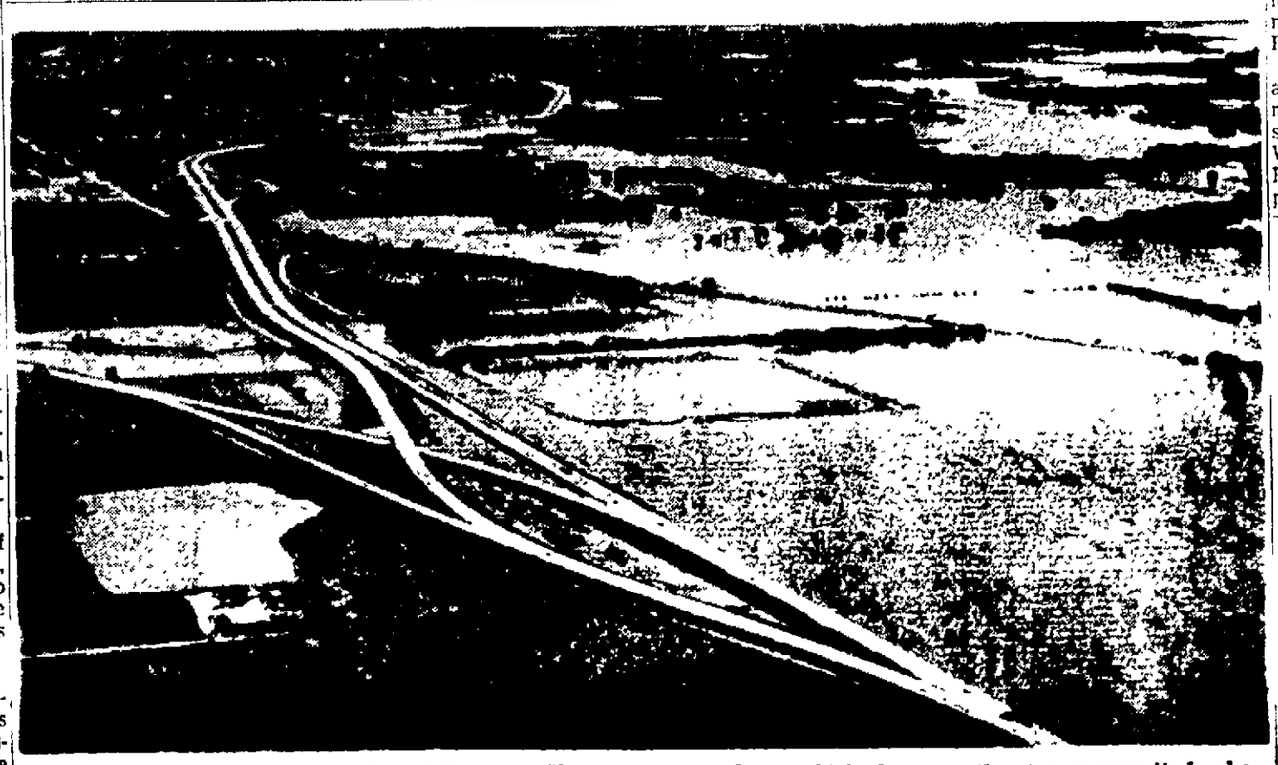

Bob Thomas, a 60-year-old municipal worker who has lived in Caernarvon all his life, said:

"Nobody here has any respect for these fools with their bombs. They're amateurs as well as idiots.

"Why we have men working with explosives in the quarries near Caernarvon who are real experts. If they wanted to set off a big blast they would make sure of it. But, you see, they don't. I know this because my son is one of them."

Isaac Oldfield, a spry 93, talks even tougher. "The prince is a champion and anyone who thinks otherwise should be shot," he said.

Caernarvon hopes to gain more than worldwide prominence from the investiture. The mass of tourists, an estimated 200,000 on the big day, are bound to set the cash registers jingling.

Viet Cong Claim Ben Het Doomed

Besieged Camp Gets New Troops

SAIGON (AP) — Fresh South Vietnamese troops, 1,500 of them, launched new sweeps around the besieged Ben Het Special Forces camp today. Military spokesmen said they were trying to ease the pressure on the camp.

Meanwhile the Viet Cong said in a new radio broadcast that Ben Het was "doomed" and that its "fall will have an unusually important significance."

"Destroying Ben Het," the broadcast said, "will be a deadly blow and a humiliating failure for the United States in its plot to de-Americanize the war and use Vietnamese to kill Vietnamese in support of U.S. neocolonialist aggression in Vietnam."

Rocket, Mortar Attack

While there were no reports of large-scale fighting during the past 24 hours, the enemy sharply stepped up rocket and mortar attacks, firing 236 rounds into the camp Friday.

It was the heaviest barrage over a 24-hour period since the camp came under attack last May 1. The only casualties reported were five American artillerymen wounded.

The United States, which is contributing only air, artillery and advisory support to the campaign, retaliated by doubling its air strikes.

Air Force fighter-bombers, diving through holes in the clouds hammered away at enemy bunkers and gun positions ringing the base.

Six to eight miles southwest of the camp, 30 Strategic Air Command B52 bombers dropped 900 tons of explosives aimed at cutting off enemy reinforcements from Laos.

Fresh Troops

The 1,500 fresh South Vietnamese troops flown into the area late Friday and today are from other bases in the Central Highlands.

Their mission, a spokesman said, is to clear the area, which includes Highway 579, the overland supply route leading to Ben Het that has been cut by the

Nixon Will Visit Behind Iron Curtain

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon announced today he is going to be the first U.S. chief executive to visit a Communist country — Romania.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Romania invited the chief executive to come, and he will do so early in August, following a circuit of five Southeast Asian capitals.

The same trip also will encompass a stop in mid-Pacific aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet to welcome the Apollo 11 astronauts back from their moonwalk voyage.

Dr. Knowles Rejected

Nixon Names Dr. Egeberg To Top HEW Health Post

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon announced today that he will appoint Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, dean of the University of Southern California Medical School, to the nation's top health post.

The announcement came a day after Secretary of Health Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch gave up trying to get the job for Dr. John H. Knowles.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon today weighed a choice among several compromise candidates for a new assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs, following the rejection of Dr. John H. Knowles for the post.

In Washington, it was reported that Dr. Roger Egeberg of the University of Southern California was the leading contender. The 65-year-old dean of the USC school of medicine flew to the nation's capital late Friday and met with Secretary of Welfare Robert H Finch.

Also reported under consideration were Dr. John R. Hogeness, dean of the board of health sciences at the University of Washington in Seattle; Dr. Richard Wilbur, a California physician in private practice; and Dr. Thomas C. Point, of the University of Oklahoma Medical School.

Some information on the choice may be made at a news briefing by presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler. Nixon also may make known then plans to go to the Pacific for the July 24 splashdown of the Apollo 11 moon capsule and perhaps to follow this with a tour of allied capitals in the Far East.

Finch Friday abandoned a five-month fight for the appointment of Dr. Knowles as his chief lieutenant for health affairs. Knowles, 45, is director of Massachusetts General Hospital.

The secretary, one of Nixon's closest advisers, bowed to opposition by the ruling elements of organized medicine, backed by Senate Majority Leader Everett M. Dirksen. Knowles has been a long-time backer of medicare and other causes unpopular to some of his medical colleagues.

Knowles blamed elements of the American Medical Association for forcing his rejection.

Aboard the presidential plane at one point Friday, Sen. Jacob K Javits, R-N.Y., senior Republican member of the Senate labor education committee, said of the substitute for Knowles:

"They're going to pick a good man who'll be hard to knock down. It would be wrong for us to take it out on him.

"But I think we ought to look into what's going on with the AMA. I think if they had any influence in this thing, it's a real throwback. The AMA did itself a tremendous disservice because now people may want the government to have a big role in health. Its dug-in opposition over the years hastened rather than retarded medicare."

Industrial Park Proposed for Future County Port Complex

BY RICHARD JACOBSON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Six specific areas of future development at the county airport, including construction of an aviation-orientated industrial park site complex and hangars, will be needed to run an effective and adequate port in years to come, airport manager Michael T. Brock, said.

These development needs are expected to be incorporated when Howard Needles, Tammen and Bergendorf, engineering consultant firm, Milwaukee, updates the master plan report and airport layout plan, Brock said.

"The plan report can be shallow or in depth as you think you need it," the port manager said. "Obviously, it would be more advantageous to plan in depth" he added.

To date, and including the $2.8 million to be allocated for the new terminal building, a total of $8 million has been expended on the apirport.

"The master plan report has to develop a meaningful indicator that can be referred to at regular intervals to determine how accurate the long-range forecast is," Brock emphasized.

Although Brock did not set up a timetable for the future needs at the airport (this will be determined in the report and layout plan), he did note specific areas that will need to be developed.

Without mentioning a priority, Brock called for the construction of 20 additional T-hangars, a general aviation redevelopment program, the hiring of additional personnel, and fire department and fast truck crwes under a multiple-use program.

Pending projects at the airport include the 1,300-foot extension of the north-south runway for $450,000; the terminal building, the master plan revision.

"Because of the population, labor and economic growth potential in this area, we must predict where the airport is going," Brock said.

"The terminal and runway extension were both outlined in the master plan. In fact, the plan noted we'd need the 8,000 foot runway by 1980 and we'll realize that need," he said.

Federal Funds

Brock said the plan report is not a prerequisite of the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) but the layout plan must be approved by the FAA before "we're eligible for federal funds."

"There is a lack of general aviation activity at this airport. The building of 20-T-hangars and a program to entice the general flying public to use our airport because we offer a better facility than other ports must be foremost in our minds when we plan for the future," Brock noted.

With the proposed expansion, Brock suggested the hiring of a second fixed-base operator.

"If we're going to grow we must consider the industrial park complex," he urged.

Industrial Parks

Brock said the chamber of commerce gets requests from industrial firms who would like to locate in Oshkosh. "The first question they ask is do you have an airport," and what does it offer," Brock noted.

"Companies are getting more and more aviation-oriented and will not relocate without the service of a port."

Brock also proposed the construction of aircraft parking ramps in the industrial parks to service the planes.

"Land to be leased for this purpose is certainly compatible with the airport. And let's face it, it's a money-making proposition for the county," the manager said.

Corporation Craft

Brock indicated that it would be advisable to consider the building of hangars for the corporation aircraft.

"I feel it's important that additional zoning be incorporated to include compatible land use," Brock said.

He explained that, at present, airports in Wisconsin are required to have zoning ordinances which pertain only to height, extending from the port boundaries out three miles. With a few exceptions, the Winnebago Airport is zoned agricultural.

"Zoning should be considered now for future development or you might have some developer coming in here constructing an apartment house complex at the end of a future runway. This is how many airports in the county have boxed themselves in," Brock said.

Forecastings

"The master plan is only as good as your forecastings," the manager added. Brock noted that somehow or other "we missed the boat on the north north-south runway extension." The 6,700 foot runway was finished a little over a year ago and already there is a need for the 1,200 foot extension.

One of the factors, Brock pointed out, is the "fantastic progress made in the design of craft and rapid growth in aviation use, both of which are hard to predict."

Brock emphasized that the port is lacking in personnel. "I could keep a man with the title of supervisor of maintenance busy 16 hours a day."

Maintenance Man

The manager said the man would be in charge of field and building maintenance and needed outside inspection of the entire airport area.

He also recommended the inclusion of a multi-use fire department. Brock suggested a type of facility which would open both on the field and street.

"The station crews would be utilized for airport emergencies and immediate city areas," the manager said.

When the layout is completed, "We'll be able to develop the airport plan in stages as the need dictates."

The final decision rests with the county board "And it's part of my job to sell the supervisors on the needs for the future," Brock pointed out.

Sewer Construction

Neenah Promised More Street Woes

NEENAH — Beleagured motorists jammed in the traffic tieups caused by the closing of the Oak Street bridge can expect another detour after it is reopened, but this one shouldn't be nearlh so long or so erious.

Public Works director Wayne Bryan said Torrey Street and possible several other sections of the one-way downtown traffic pattern will have to be closed two to three weeks for construction of a storm sewre project estimated to cost $150,000.

Bids on Monday

Fortunately for drivers, the project is not scheduled to start until late July or August — after the Oak Street Bridge is reopened.

Bids will be opened Monday on the project, which involves laying a 48-inch line in a generally eastward direction from Main Street along Torrey and Smith to Isabella, along Isabella to Sherry, along Sherry to Franklin, and along Franklin as far as Walnut Street.

When completed, the line should ease flooding in the area of the post office and Commercial Street, which occurs due to the inadequate capacity of the present line, Bryan said.

The project will require tearing up the sidewalk on one side of Sherry Street. New sidewalk will be put in upon completion.

While the new line is being laid, repair will be done on faulty sections of the storm sewer along Church Street between Winneconne Avenue and the post office.

Bids will also be opened Monday for project in August to repave Main Street and Wisconsin Avenue from Torrey to Commercial Street, and Commercial from Doty Street to the Fox River Bridge. Estimated cost is $32,000.

Bids will also be accepted for sidewalk construction projects in the second and ninth wards.

Water Works Settles on 1969 Contract

NEENAH — Final approval of a 8.87 per cent pay hike for 13 water department employes was given by the water commission in a special meeting this week.

The pay package, which has been approved by the employes and the finance committee, the city's bargainnig agent, calls for a wage raise which will amount to $31 a month, compltee payment by the city of $11.94 a month worth of hospitalization and surgical care insurance, and increases in longevity pay.

The contract is for one year and retroactive to Jan. 1 of this year.

New Water Tower

In other business at the special meeting, the commission decided to ask the long-range capital planning committee to include a 600,000 gallon elevated water tower estimated to cost $150,000 in its building plans for 1971.

Supt. John Jurgenson said the tower would be needed in the rapidly-developing southwest portion of the city.

Girl Given Probation For False ID

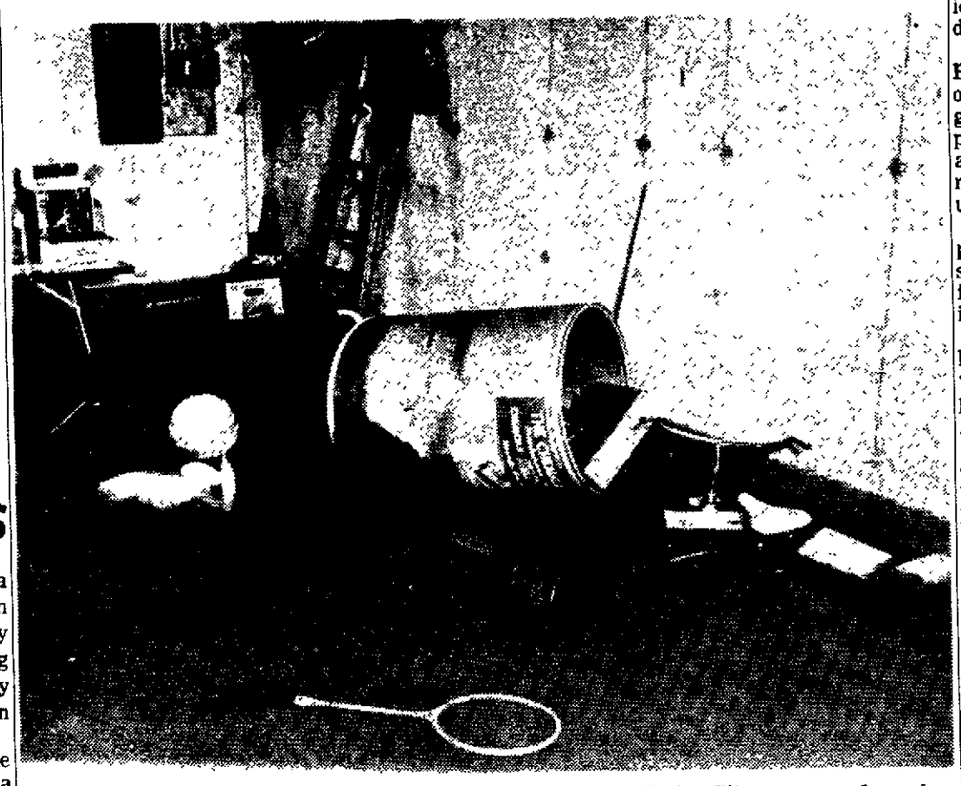

NEENAH — A 17-year-old girl Thursday was placed on one year probation to the Winnebago County Department of Social Services when she was found delinquent for running away from home, truancy, and carrying a false identification card.

She appeared before Winnebago County Juvenile Court Judge James G. Sarres.

In another case, Judge Sarres found a 16-year-old boy delinquent in a case involving auto theft, and ordered the youth placed under a year's supervision by the county social services department.

A 12-year-old boy was placed on one year informal supervision under the department for bicycle theft, entering parked cars and curfew violations. Further proceedings are scheduled on a vandalism charge.

A 15-year-old youth also was placed on informal supervision for a year under the department for curfew violation. Further proceedings are scheduled on a vandalism charge. Charges of bicycle theft and entering parked cars were dismissed.

It Was An Anniversary Observance — none too pleasant — for farmers with flooded fields and homeowners with flooded basements who remembered June 27 last year. Police Add Boating Service

Storm Warning System Installed

NEENAH — Boaters having trouble keeping ahead of the turbulent June monsoon now have another weather warning guide. A red flashing light and a flagpole have been installed at the police boat dock.

Sky Bombs

The red light will be used along with the one on the water tower to warn boaters of severe weather, Sgt. Duane Nelson, in charge of city police boating operations, said this morning.

When the red lights are put into operation, two aerial sky bombs will be fired to call the warning to the attention of boaters.

The flagpole at the boathouse will be used to advise boaters of wind velocities. At 18-22 miles per hour, one red pennant will be hoisted. At 22-30 miles per hour two red pennants will be flown.

"The one red pennant is a warning for sailboats," Nelson said. "When two red pennants are flown, the Neenah Police Department advises all boaters to stay off the lake."

Nelson aid the police department also wished to call attention to the corps of engineers warning Friday that boaters should stay off the Fox River for the next week to 10 days until the floodgates, which were opened due to the heavy rains, are reclosed.

NEENAH-MENASHA — Constituents of Rep. William A. Steiger have received a his-and-hers questionnaire from the Oshkosh Republican.

One of many congressmen who periodically turn the tables and write their constituents, Steiger has made provisions in his current questionnaire for male and female respondents to answer separately.

The five-part form asks;

— How would you rate the job President Nixon is doing? (Choices are excellent, good, fair or poor).

— What are the most important issues facing this country? (Federal tax reform, the Vietnam War, farm prices, the ABM missile system, campus unrest and "other" are listed, to be rated from 1 for the most important issue through 6 for the least important).

— Do you favor increasing the personal income tax exemption from the present $600 to $1,000 per dependent? (yes or no).

NM Sewage Plant Hits Rate of 37 Million Gallons

NEENAH — Fire Truck No. 2 was bust pumping for about 14½ consecutive hours Friday helping ease the backup at the sewage plant caused by the 2½ inch rain Thursday.

The truck was engaged from about 1:15 a.m. to 3:50 p.m. pumping from the sanitary sewer into the storm sewer at Cecil Street and Hunt Avenue, firemen said.

Harland "Bud" Shuelke, sewage pant superintendent, said the plant's flow rate Friday morning was 37 million gallons a day more than double the plant's capacity.

Workers Vote Down UAW Bid To Unionize

Waupaca Foundry Production Employes Reject Plan; 118-96

WAUPACA — A bid by a division of the United Auto Workers (UAW) to unionize production workers at the Waupaca Foundry, Inc. was defeated here Friday in a representation election.

The employes had their choice of having no union, or being represented by the UAW's Aerospace and Agricultural Equipment Workers, Region 10.

The final results of the balloting, announced by an agent of the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), were: Against a union, 118; for the UAW Union, 96; and one vote voided.

There were 214 valid votes cast with six challenges but they had no bearing on the outcome of the election.

Total Ballots

The NLRB spokesman said the work unit — representing the number of employes to cast ballots — totaled 238.

Two petitions, stating different numbers for the size of the work unit, had been filed by the union in recent weeks on the heels of an intense organizing campaign.

The union had petitioned the NLRB for the election.

Voting took place at the foundry throughout the day with the tabulations completed shortly after 7 p.m., and results announced then.

Under the National Labor Act, either party has five days in which to appeal the election results, providing there are valid grounds. There was no indication the union intended to contest the results.

No Problems

The NLRB spokesman said the election went off smoothly.

Waupaca Foundry now has union and non-union employe groups although the former are much in the minority.

A group of drivers are represented by Teamsters Union, Local 563 of Appleton.

A year ago the firm was struck for a short time by the Teamsters.

No Action Taken Against Union in Pierce Dispute

There will be no action against Teamsters Local 563 for a work stoppage of union employes at Pierce Auto Body Works April 1 when a strike-bound firm's truck was unloaded there.

This was the word Friday from Irving M. Herman, office of appeals director for the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) in Washington.

Originally, the Valley Contractor Suppliers Association filed a charge with the regional NLRB director who dismissed it. Attorneys for the association appealed the dismissal.

Herman wrote parties in the dispute, which has since been settled, that the association's appeal has been denied.

However, he said the union's action appeared to be in violation of the labor act but added that the conduct complained of is already covered by an order against the Teamsters in a recent case, and any further proceedings would not serve a useful statutory purpose.

First in Valley

Hospital Union Wins Election at Memorial

An AFL-CIO affiliate made its first major breakthrough in the Fox Valley here Friday, winning a close representation election at Appleton Memorial Hospital.

The outcome of the voting, supervised by an agent for the Wisconsin Employment Relations (WERC), gave Local 150 of the Service and Hospital Employes International Union a four-vote edge.

Members of the WERC-designated work unit, which excluded nurses and other professionals, voted 58 to 54 in favor of union representation.

114 Voted

A total of 114 hospital employes, including nurses aids, dietary, maintenance, laundry and housekeeping personnel, out of an eligible 141 participated in the balloting during the morning and afternoon.

Voting rights of two employes were challenged, and no votes were voided. However, the challenges had no affect on the final outcome of the election, the first to be conducted at a hopsital in this area in two years.

In 1967 Local 150 organized some employes at Theda Clark Hospital at Neenah but when it came to a representation election was soundly defeated.

The union, which as its state headquarters in Milwaukee and has units in various parts of Wisconsin, has been stepping up out-state organizing activity in recent months.

Door County

Earlier in the week, it was reported, Local 150 won a representation election at Door County Memorial Hospital at Sturgeon Bay.

The union has also petitioned the WERC for elections at St. Vincent Hospital at Green Bay and the Community Hospital at Two Rivers.

Business agent for the organized employes at Appleton Memorial Hospital is Roger Jacobson of Two Rivers.

Jack Shepard, administrator at Appleton Memorial, confirmed the results of the election and said the hospital management had no comment to make.

Bargaining Agent

The next move will be for the WERC to officially certify Local 510 as the official bargaining representative for wages, hours and working conditions — a formality within the next 5 to 10 days unless the election outcome is appealed.

Don Beatty, Milwaukee, state president of the Service and Hospital Employes International Union, said a general membership meeting of employes in the work unit would be held in the near future to discuss terms of a proposed contract.

"The employes will also select a bargaining committee and Local 150 will then ask management for a member to start negotiating the first contract," Beatty said.

He did not disclose whether the union has organizing drives underway at other hospitals in the Fox Cities region.

Slight Injuries Result From Crash

Minor injuries were reported by one person after a two-car collision about 5 p.m. Friday at W. Franklin and N. Superior streets.

Bonnie L. Wegner, 1702 W. Winnebago St., suffered a bump on the arm when the car she was driving collided with an auto driven by Kim J. Williams, 3800 E. Broadway Drive, according to Appleton police.

The Wegner auto was heading west on Franklin and the Williams vehicle was going north on Superior when the mishap occurred.

Mrs. Rosenthal was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, 73, which collided with an auto driven by Sandra L. Larsen, 22, 1601 N. Richmond.

Appleton police said the Rosenthal vehicle was going east on W. Packard Street and the Larsen auto was heading south on N. Division Street at the time of the collision.

City Hall Finally 'Cooling Off'

Air Conditioning Will be Installed in Chambers, Offices

They're "cooling it" at the Appleton City Hall.

Air conditioning units were being installed this past week just in time for the warm weather which has been elusive, but finally arrived Friday.

Recently, the city council authorized an expenditure of $4,525 for the equipment and its installation.

An estimated 25 portable window air conditioning units are earmarked for installation in city hall, which is a converted, old school building.

For the first time in history the city council chambers are also being air conditioned, something meeting-goers have pleaded for over the years.

One unit was scheduled to be installed in the sleeping quarters at the No. 1 fire station, and four others are being put in the municipal service garage administrative offices.

Alliance of Cities

Area Officials to Testify on State Budget Bill in Madison

Mayors, city managers and aldermen from throughout the Fox Valley and other major cities in Wisconsin will converge on the state capitol at Madison July 11 to testify on the budget bill.

The Alliance of Cities, comprised of 20 of the state's largest urban communities, including Green Bay, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc and Sheboygan in the Fox Valley, has called the meeting.

Mayor George Buckley of Appleton, Alliance treasurer and member of the board of directors, said the latest information is the State Assembly will not hold a public hearing on the proposed state budget for about 10 days.

He said Mayor Wallace Burkee, Kenosha, Alliance president, has urged all members to keep informed on developments and be prepared to "consolidate their position" when appearing en masse in Madison early next month.

City officials have been urged to bring members of their city councils to the July 11 Alliance meeting at 10:30 a.m.

The State Senate adopted a compromise finance or budget bill recently, which included some of the recommendations of the Tarr Task Force, but Assembly leaders predicted it would be cut considerably.

When the Senate and Assembly cannot agree, the budget bid is assigned to a conference committee comprised of representatives of both houses.

Alliance members have been pushing for revisions in the state aids and tax distribution systems, annexation laws, uniform countywide assessment and several other bills aimed at streamlining government and easing the property tax load.

Thus far, the Wisconsin Legislature has not concurred in any of the key Tarr Task Force recommendations which have been backed by Gov. Warren Knowles, among others.

Constitutional Convention Hit by Assembly Democrats

Keep 'One Man, One Vote' Rule

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Creating a House of Lords in the State Legislature makes as much sense as Wisconsin backing the Dirksen Amendment to call a constitutional convention, Assemblyman Herbert Grover, D-Shawano, told the assembly elections committee Friday.

Leading foes of the Dirksen plan in their fight to make Wisconsin a last-ditch block to the calling on a convention to overturn the "one man, one vote" rule, Grover called upon Wisconsin lawmakes not to "stumble back through the pages of history."

In a major change of position, Assembly Speaker Harold V. Froehlich, R-Appleton, appeared to back the proposal. Two years ago Froehlich opposed such a plan because it would knock down the one man, one vote concept. He represents an urban ward.

Alien Plan

The concept of apportioning state legislatures on any other basis than population, as proposed by the Dirksen Amendment, is so totally foreign to Wisconsin's 121 year history as a state that the lawmakers should have nothing to do with it, said Grover in a hearing in the state capitol that brought the nation's three major television networks out for a look.

"I'll place my political future on the one man, one vote concept," said Grover, pointing out that he represents underpopulated Shawano and Menominee Counties which might have much to gain from representation based on area rather than population.

"Are we going to stumble back through the pages of history?" asked Grover. "I think the Wisconsin Legislature should not participate in tearing this page out. If we are going to do this why don't we go all the way back — why not a House of Lords?" asked Grover.

Control Legislature

The crowded hearing room bathed in hot television lights, Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel, R-Brookfield, defended his proposal by warning that after the census in 1970, it might be possible for the representatives of six southeastern Wisconsin counties to control the legislature unless one house can be apportioned on another basis than the one-man, one-vote principle handed down by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1962.

Merkel warned that if the court doctrine is followed, America might face the tyranny of the majority and minorities might lose all rights.

But Froehlich said that while he still supports that principle, he is willing to "gamble" on holding a constitutional convention in hopes that other topics could also be considered — such as his plan to elect all federal judges.

Froehlich pointed out federal courts decisions by Judge James Doyle of the state's Gordon in the eastern district, in attacking the federal judiciary and saying that the people must have a right to vote on such judges.

"The people need a chance to elect judges. I'm willing to take a chance that this might happen," Froehlich said. "Common sense and reason no longer prevail in a criminal court case."

The Dirksen Amendment, named after Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, proposes a constitutional convention on the one man, one vote question. It is widely debated whether other topics could be considered, as Froehlich desires.

Opponents of the plan warn that if a "wide open" convention could be permitted, the entire Bill of Rights and the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution would come under attack from the right.

33 Approve

To date, 33 states have called for a convention. The national attention given Friday's hearing was based on the state's chance to become the 34th, which seemingly would be the number needed to direct Congress to set up the first such convention in 185 years.

But legal doubts also exist as to the legitimacy of some of the actions by the 33 states, which, critics charge, are currently malapportioned under the one man, one vote decision. Their actions are therefore invalid, the opponents of the Dirksen plan are hoping.

Merkel said that opponents of the plan have become "slaves to a trite, meaningless slogan — one man, one vote."

Modify Plans

Kaukauna Board to Meet on School Costs

KAUKAUNA — A special meeting of the board of education will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday with George Narovec, architect, to discuss possible modification in school designs in an effort to reduce costs.

Bids for a northside elementary school designed by Narovec amounted to $1,196,000. An additional $304,000 for permanent landscaping and playgrounds streets, sewer installations, landscaping and playgrounds brought the estimated total to $1,500,000.

Voters demanded a referendum and defeated the $1,500,000 bond proposal needed for construction. The school district has been renting classroom space, some of which is deemed inadequate by state officials, and a projected increase in enrollment makes a building program imperative.

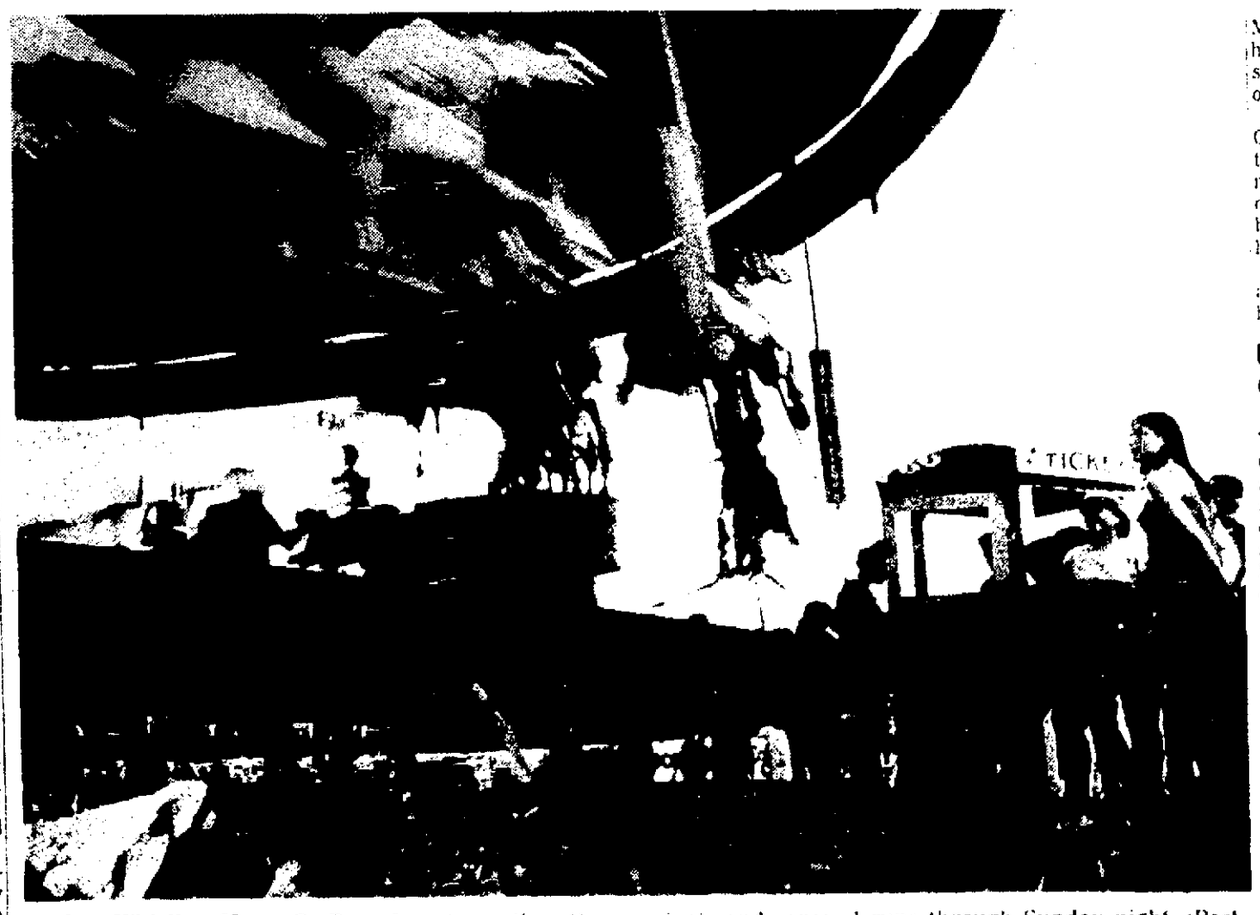

The fiscal control board of the district held a series of meetings with the board of education and members felt, if the cost of the northside school could be reduced, it would be approved by the voters. The board called the special meeting with Narovec to see whether deletions or changes in materials could be made to help reduce building costs.

Plans also call for further study of a pre-fabricated school building as constructed by Marshall Erdman and Associates. It is not known whether such a school could be built in Kaukauna according to state statutes, which require a city school district such as Kaukauna to advertise for bids on school construction.

Since Marshall Erdman and Associates provide a pre-fabricated building, it would be almost impossible to seek bids as no other firm could meet the specifications of a building which is pre-fabricated.

That firm is preparing a school plan for the city to be considered by the fiscal board and school board.

Kiekhaefer Employes to Vote on Pact

Wildcat Strikes Have Slowed Work Since Wednesday

FOND DU LAC — Members of an embittered union at the Kiekhaefer Corp., which has plants here and at Oshkosh and Cedarburg, were to vote this afternoon on whether to accept a new contract.

It was estimated that more than 3,000 employes of the firm were scheduled to cast ballots in the three cities.

The biggest turnout was expected at Goodrich High auditorium here where an estimated 1,400 workers at the major Fond du Lac plant were to hear union officials explain contract proposals, and then take a vote to approve or reject.

Marathon Talks

Local 1947 of the International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, is the employe representative. Union officials have been carrying on marathon contract talks with management most of the week.

However, there have been wildcat (unauthorized) walkouts since Wednesday. At one point union officials warned employes their actions were illegal and might jeopardize negotiations.

A top union official said today the company's contract proposal included substantial improvement over the previous three-year pact, which expired earlier in the month but was extended by mutual agreement of management and labor.

The bargaining committee is expected to recommend ratification.

The company has refused to comment on the situation.

Strike If Rejected

Should the union membership ratify the proposed contract, production at all plants is expected to be at maximum capacity next week.

Rejection of the contract would result in a likely shutdown of the Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Cedarburg operations of the firm, which manufactures inboard and outboard Mercury engines, snowmobiles and stern drives.

Union members earlier in the week voted to strike the company if contract terms were unacceptable.

The Kiekhaefer plants here and at Oshkosh employ many persons from throughout the Fox Cities region.

Ordinance to Limit Burning Suggested

Committee Wants to Aleviate Kaukauna Health Problem

KAUKAUNA — The health and recreation committee has voted to recommend to the legislative committee the adoption of an ordinance limiting burning in the city to leaves and fuel used for outdoor cooking purposes.

Mrs. Mary Yingling, city nurse, and members of the Kaukauna Improvement Committee appeared before the council unit this week to recommend an ordinance which would prohibit burning of garbage or other debris causing offensive odors or a health problem.

The committee and council have been studying a burning ordinance for several months. The ordinance as proposed would limit burning of leaves to the hours between 4 and 8 p m and would require competent supervision by a person at least 18 years of age

An oridinal recommendation of limiting burning to leaves in a wire container at least six inches off the ground was deferred by the council back to the committee because some aldermen and Mayor Gilbert Anderson felt such an ordinance would be too restrictive

The new recommendation will be acted upon by the council at the July meeting Representatives of the legislative committee were on hand when the new ordinance was proposed

Pioneer in Field

K-C Scientist Chosen As TAPPI Recipient

Dr. Walter W. Roehr, 1215 E. Jardin St., Appleton, of Kimberly-Clark Corporation has been selected to receive an annual award of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry (TAPPI).

Roehr, a senior research associate and one of the first physicists to enter the papermaking field, will receive TAPPI's 1969 Coating and Graphic Arts Division award. The presentation will be during a graphic arts conference Oct. 7-10 at Lake Kiamesha, N. Y.

TAPPI cited Roehr as a pioneer in defining the physical parameters involved in paper-ink relationships, and for his role in developing paper testing equipment.

The international association, the largest of its kind, is devoted to the collection and exchange of technical information. Members include companies and scientists, technicians and forestry experts in the pulp, paper and paperboard industry

Joined in 1934

Roehr received his doctorate from Washington University in 1933 and joined Kimberly-Clark the following year. One of his early studies led to Kimberly-Clark's development of heavily coated papers.

In selecting the veteran scientist for its award, TAPPI termed Roehr's contributions "of inestimable value to both papermakers and printers concerned with the letterpress, rotogravure and offset (printing) processes."

Roehr, a native of Mt. Vernon, Ind., is a frequent contributor to technical and scientific journals. He is a member of TAPPI's graphic arts committee, a past director of the Gravure Technical Association, and a member of the executive committee of the Research and Engineering Council of the Graphic Arts, The American Physical Society and of the Technical Association of the Graphic Arts.

Village Police Adopt Helmets For Regular Use

LITTLE CHUTE — Village police have begun to wear a protective helmet as part of the standard police uniform in the interest of personal safety.

The helmets were purchased for riot control, but it was decided the new type headgear could possibly save an officer from injury while on normal duty calls, thus they were made part of the official uniform.

Area police officers have suffered head cuts and other head injuries when struck by rocks or kicked by someone becoming violent after an arrest, reasoned village police, and rather than let riot helmets gather dust on the shelf, members decided to wear them for regular duty.

Postal Service Extended in City

KAUKAUNA — Postal service has been extended to approximately 20 residences on Ann and Henry streets, and Parkwood, Thelen and Glenview avenues, according to Robert Grogan, postmaster. This is the third extension of delivery service in the city during the past year.

Rapidly developing residential growth in these areas warranted the extensions. Grogan noted, the extended service caused a revision of the routes with Eighth and Ninth Streets shifted to a different route.

Constitutional Convention Hit by Assembly Democrats

blinded eyes" handed down that decision based not on how the Constitution is written but on how they wished it had been written, he claimed.

The high court has so changed the Constitution that "it is a meaningless piece of paper anyway. Maybe it needs a little patching," he charged.

Assemblyman Joseph Tregoning, R-Shullsburg, claimed that the one man, one vote decision does not provide for equal representation because it doesn't deal with actual voters, but total local population. Even prisoners behind bars are counted in such representation plans, he said.

Grover warned that under the plan not just Milwaukee and southeastern and southwestern Wisconsin could lose legislative seats, but that entire regions such as the Fox River Valley could be malapportioned as well.

A majority of the seven man elections committee headed by Assemblyman Stanley York, R-River Falls, is known to be against the resolution.

York does not intend to hold a committee vote on the bill until mid-summer, and action is not expected on the floor therefore until fall.

A similar resolution has been introduced in the State Senate by Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek. If the senate acts first and sends their version on to the assembly, it is expected that Froehlich would not send the motion to York's committee, but would refer it to a more friendly committee instead — or onto the floor for immediate action.

Both friends and foes of the plan are predicting an extremely close margin in the lower house, when the issue is finally put to a vote. Neither side is predicting victory.

The issue is crossing party lines, with some GOP lawmakers deadset against the plan, while some upstate Democrats are thought to favor the motion.

"I'm not very good at making guesses, but either way it's going to be a squeaker," said York, who is opposed to the Dirksen Amendment, at the close of the hearing.

The opportunity to be heard brought out major farm and labor organizations, political figures, and average citizens as well.

Backing the plan was the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation; aligned against it were the National Farmers Organization and the Wisconsin Farmers Union.

Also opposing the Merkel move were a wide range of labor groups, including the AFL-CIO, the United Auto Workers, and the United Electrical Workers.

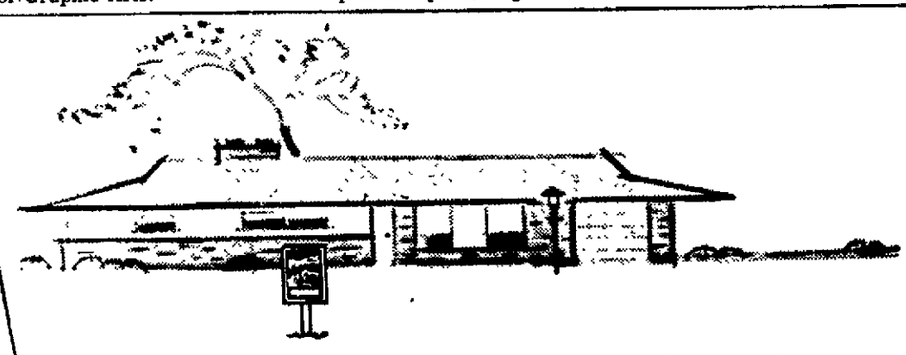

Patrick J. Lucey, an unnannounced candidate for the Democrat's 1970 gubernatorial nomination, told the committee:

"I do not see any logic at all in our being the instrument to impose on other people in other states a less democratic system of government than we now have in Wisconsin."

Juvenile Bail Rights Clarified

Probability of Crime Must be Established By Authorities

MILWAUKEE (AP)— A juvenile suspected of crime cannot be held by juvenile authorites without access to bail unless legal requirements have been met for establishing probable cause that a crime was committed, a U.S. District Court has ruled.

The 22-page opinion of Judge W. Reynolds said the Wisconsin juvenile code "affords a juvenile an adequate substitute for bail," but that to hold him without bail longer than is necessary to make a formal complaint could mean depriving him of his constitutional right to due process of law.

The opinion was issued concerning a suit filed on behalf of a 17-year-old youth. The suit had argued the youth was held "without benefit of a judicial determination of probable cause to believe that a crime had been committed."

The youth had been apprehended for questioning about a fire that damaged stage equipmen and props March 27 at a North Side high school. Reynolds ordered the youth released from a juvenile detention home May 14 and placed in his mother's custody.

He had been ordered held in detention April 23 by a probation officer. Reynold's opinion said Milwaukee County Court decided April 25 to hold the youth without bond, and that a Circuit Court decided later in the month that he "be held in detention without right to bail."

Both courts, Reynolds said, violated the Constitution's due process provisions.

The state, Reynolds said, argued juveniles could be held under such circumstances because the juvenile code allows "taking into custody shall not be considered an arrest."

"Liberty was clearly restrained by the state, regardless of the name the state chooses to apply to his seizure and subsequent detention," Reynolds said.

The Wisconsin Surpeme Court, Reynolds said, has ruled against detention longer than is necessary to determine whether a crime has been committed.

While that decision may have involved an adult, Reynolds continued, presumably "the same standard is required to be applied to a juvenile."

When a court hearing in the case of a juvenile satisfies the requirements of due process, Reynolds said, "the interest of the juvenile is protected, and he is not subjected to arbitrary confinement."

In the case of the 17-year-old, he said, "there is no indication of any exhibits having been offered or received in evidence, and no testimony was taken" during any of the April hearings in County Court or Circuit Court.

School Clerks Vote to Retain Bargain Unit

Clerical Association Defeats Local 73 In Close Election

The independent Appleton Public Schools Clerical Association has again been certified the bargaining agent for an estimated 45 to 50 clerks following a close election June 19.

First disclosure of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission-conducted election results was made Friday.

The Clerical Association defeated the challenging Local 73 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, by getting a slim majority.

Official Results

Official results of the balloting had four school system clerks who favored neither of the two groups on the ballot, while 23 votes were cast for the association and 17 for Local 73.

Outcome of the election did not affect the current year's contract now in effect.

Personnel Director Jerome Rusch, who is handling negotiations for the board of education for some of its employe groups, said the next bargaining session with the Appleton Public School Clerical Association would be on a 1970 contract.

Fact Finding

On a related labor-management note involving the public school system, Local 73 and the board are now involved in fact finding over a 1969 contract for an estimated 80 unionized custodians.

The union and school board negotiators reached an impasse in negotiations about two months ago, called in a mediator and then petitioned for factfinding.

Final briefs have been filed by both sides with the WERC-selected factfinder, who will make a recommendation on wages, hours and working conditions to be incorporated into a new contract.

Indiana U. Golfer Heads NCAA Field

McDonald's Score Of 223 Leader On Rugged Course

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — College boys scrambling for the crown at the 72nd NCAA Golf Championships today are going to have to beat one another. They can't seem to beat the golf course.

They don't have a prayer now of getting close to the par of 280 for 72 holes on the Broadmoor layout, 6,600 feet above sea level.

The leader going into the final lap is Wayne McDonald, an Indiana University player from Toronto, Canada. He plugged away Friday for a commendable 72 and a 54-hole showing of 223, 13 over par.

McDonald, 21-year-old junior playing in his first NCAA tournament, said "I hit the ball well and avoided trouble—I got the shots I wanted to hit."

Leach Second

Bracketed on McDonald's heels are the 36-hole leader, Ray Leach of Brigham Young University; Terry Diehl of Georgia, and Bob Clark of California State at Los Angeles, all at 224.

Leach blew to an 81 Friday.

Wake Forest, although its top scorer, Joe Inman, was six strokes behind McDonald, grabbed a five-shot edge in the battle for the team title with 923. Florida's defending champions posted 928 and Houstin 929 in a bid for the Texan's 11th team championship since 1956.

As some idea of the frustrations that collegians have suffered this week, only two players have broken par. Leach and Marty Huguet of Louisiana State, both freshmen, shot one-under 69s Thursday.

Only one other has equalled par, John Jackson of Arizona State, with a 70 in the second round.

Radder 8th

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Jeff Radder of Madison, Wis., was one of two players tied for eighth in individual standings today going into the final 18 holes of the 72-hole NCAA collegiate golf championships.

Radder had 76-77-73—226 while Andy North of Madison, with 80-77-78—235, was among 10 entries tied for 40th place. Radder was three strokes off the pace after 54 holes.

Defending champion Florida, with which North was playing, dropped to second place at the three-quarter mark with 928, five strokes worse than Wake Forest.

Radder played for Purdue, which was not among Friday's 16 leaders.

Ponds Triumphs Over Arrow '9'

Keyed by a 6-run second inning, Pond's Sport Shop thrashed Arrow Moving, 15-0, in a Northern Division game in the Appleton Babe Ruth League recently.

Jeff Bergsbaken allowed just two hits and struck out 12 in hurling the win. Greg Wells was tagged with the loss.

Mark Sternhagen drove in four runs with a pair of hits, and Dave Struck rapped three hits, good for three more runs.

Nations Sever Relations

Soccer Dispute Leads To Diplomatic Trouble

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Honduras and its tiny neighbor El Salvador maintained an icy silence today after a dispute over soccer matches led them to sever diplomatic relations.

The deciding game was played Friday night on neutral territory, in Mexico City, and El Salvador won 3-2 in overtime. There were no incidents reported.

The dispute began earlier this month when the two teams met in a best-of-three playoff series for a berth in the 1970 World Cup tournament.

Honduras won the first game in its capital. El Salvador won the second game in its capital last week. Rioting followed both matches.

Complaint

After the second game, Honduras complained that its team had been insulted and attacked by Salvadorean fans. Honduras also said fans were disrespectful during the playing of its national anthem.

El Salvador then claimed Hondurans were attacking Salvadoreans living in Honduras. It said Honduras was expropriating Salvadoreans' property and expelling them from the country. The Salvadorean Red Cross said thousands of Salvadoreans returned from Honduras complaining of atrocities.

The two countries agreed to hold the final round of the soccer playoff in Mexico, but the dispute continued.

On Thursday night, El Salvador announced it intended to sever diplomatic relations. Honduras replied Friday night it not only intended to break off ties but had done so.

El Salvador's soccer team won the right Friday to meet Haiti to determine which team will represent the North American and North Caribbean zone in the world championship in Mexico next summer.

Kuhn Ponders Directive, Avoids Crowd at Astrodome

Houston (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will ask the American League to put out a directive asking that league players not patronize Joe Namath's bar in New York City.

Kuhn told reporters at a press conference Friday that he was aware the National League has already made the same request and this was the basis for his request to the American League.

Kuhn attended the Houston Astros-Atlanta Brave game Friday night, but few of the 24,580 Astrodome fans were aware of his presence.

The giant scoreboard which usually welcomes dignitaries to the stadium during the game did not mention the commissioner was in attendance.

Kuhn has not been popular with Houston fans since his ruling in the controversial Rusty Staub-Donn Clendenon trade between the Astros and the Montreal Expos.

Bill Giles, Astro publicity director and chief operator of the $2 million scoreboard, said he felt it was best not to announce the commissioner was present.

Kuhn sat with Astros owner Roy Hofheinz in Hofheinz' private box. During the trade controversy, Kuhn had demanded and received a written apology from Hofheinz for remarks the club owner made concerning Kuhn's ruling.

Bachelors III Off Limits To NL Baseball Players?

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League President Warren C. Giles said Tuesday he has asked that all league players be notified it would "not be in the best interests of baseball" if they patronize Joe Namath's Bachelors III bar in New York.

He said, however, that "no penalty for doing so was indicated" in the communication to the various clubs.

Namath, star quarterback of the New York Jets of the American Football League, has been under fire for his connection with the tavern.

Pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle has ordered Namath to dispose of his interest in the bar or face suspension because, Rozelle said, the club is frequented by known gamblers.

Namath has said he will retire from football.

Giles' statement said:

"On June 20 I requested our clubs to notify players that information we had about patronage of the Bachelors III bar in New York was such that it would not be in the best interests of baseball if our players patronized it.

"No penalty for doing so was indicated."

Sunday Organ Recital — St. John United Church of Christ, Black Creek: Edna Schaefer Harvey, faculty member American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, 9 a.m. at Black Creek Church.

Car-School Bus Crashes Staged For Safety Tests

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Safety experts slammed an auto going 60 miles per hour into a parked school bus full of mannikins, the 119th crash they've staged to develop new safety features.

The mannikins, in sizes corresponding to 3-, 6- and 13-year-olds and adults, were set in different types of seats Tuesday. "We were able to see whether the bus seats retained individuals," said Derwyn Severy, a research engineer at the University of California at Los Angeles, which is running the tests.

Most of the seats were empty after the crash, as dummies fell into the aisle, slammed into one another and the walls and slid under seats. Four adult-sized dummies in the auto were heavily damaged.

With 11 cameras in the bus and four in the car, plus electronic gear in the head and chest of the auto's "driver," the experts hope to recommend to the Department of Transportation design changes in buses, cars and trucks.

Actor's Son Admits Selling LSD Tablets

State Seeks to Update Rules For Migrants

Four Hearings on Camp Regulations Scheduled in July

Special to The Post-Crescent

MADISON — The Waushara County courthouse, Wautoma, will be among four sites scheduled for public hearings on a proposed modernization of the state's migrant camp regulations.

The hearing at Wautoma is scheduled for 10 a.m.

Other hearings are at Milwaukee, July 21; Sturgeon Bay, July 24, and Madison, July 28.

Purpose of the new code is to eliminate conflicts and confusions between three different sets of existing rules, the State Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations (DILHR) announced.

The consolidation of the varying requirements into one code is designed to improve understanding of the regulations among both migrant camp operators and the migrants themselves, as well as to better protect the transient worker, the agency said.

Peter Barber, migrant housing supervisor, said the proposed set of rules would combine the best features of the state building, heating and ventilation codes administered by DILHR, the migrant code originally created by the State Health Division, and the Federal Migrant code.

Barber said the proposed rules were drafted by an advisory committee which was created soon after DILHR was given complete authority within state government for migrant camp inspections.

Before the State Government Reorganization Act of 1967, the State Health Division had the primary responsibility.

The committee was composed of representatives of canners, growers, migrants and the state and federal governments.

"In most cases of conflict between the three sets of regulations," Barber said, "the more stringent rules were incorporated into the new proposal."

Future Placements to be Checked

Nursing Homes Expect New Program to Lower Costs

WAUPACA — Improved individual service and lower nursing care costs are expected to result when part of the law dealing with persons in nursing homes under the Wisconsin Medical Assistance Program goes into effect Tuesday.

Effective July 1, any person eligible for Medical Assistance wishing to enter a nursing home must first have his placement approved by the county department of social services.

"It may mean that we will have to have an additional social worker in this department," said social services department supervisor Robert Jarentowski. "We firmly believe, however, that it will correct some abuses and permit us to exercise more control.

Rising Welfare Costs

"Most important, it will mean that the person will get the proper care in the proper place," he added. Since the Medical Assistance program went into effect two years ago. the cost of Medical Assistance has been a significant figure in welfare department rising costs. More specifically, the growing figure was attributed to nursing home care.

State-wide popular complaints have held that the social services department paying the bill had nothing to say about the kind of nursing care an eligible client needed.

There also was reason to believe that many clients were receiving skilled nursing care when their condition would have been more satisfactorily met in a less costly nursing home.

Patients formerly decided which nursing home they wanted to enter, and the administrator of that home submitted the nursing bill to the county social services department for payment. It was not within the duties or privileges of the department to raise questions about the type of care the patient needed.

Skilled Nursing Homes

This situation came about partly because patients were not made aware of the types of resources available in the county.

Skilled nursing homes, for example, offer three levels of care: maximum, moderate and minimum. Personal care homes, room and board facilities, foster homes, group homes, or his own home, in some circumstances would better suit the person's physical and social needs.

In some cases, patients were paying for more care than they needed, while other patients were not getting sufficient care for their money.

According to Jarentowski, under the new law, a person who can pay for his own care would enter the home of his choice.

If his money runs out, he can apply for Medical Assistance, and if found eligible, the social services department will evaluate his needs and find the proper care facility. If he is on Social Security, all but $9 per month for his personal use will be applied toward his care.

Total Needs Met

If a person's wife, for example, is left at home, her Social Security is unaffected, but she could be eligible for old age assistance if there is not sufficient money for her to remain at home. The total need of the family is met, adequately and at appropriate cost.

The second significant change, after July 1, said Jarentowski, will be Social Services Department evaluation of all persons now in the county's 13 nursing homes whose care is being paid under the Medical Assistance program.

Every 10 months, each patient's case comes up for review before the district social services office. A medical social worker visits the nursing home to review the kind of care being given and his information is returned to the county department for assessment as to what kind of care the patient requires. Final responsibility is the choice of a proper facility.

A sample study made in Dane County revealed that 20 per cent of the patients did not need to be in a skilled nursing home, while another 20 per cent required change to another level of care. The remaining 60 per cent were in proper care facilities.

Industrial Park Proposed for Future County Port Complex

BY RICHARD JACOBSON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Six specific areas of future development at the county airport, including construction of an aviation-oriented industrial park site complex and hangars, will be needed to run an effective and adequate port in years to come, airport manager Michael T. Brock, said.

These development needs are expected to be incorporated when Howard Needles, Tammen and Bergendorf, engineering consultant firm, Milwaukee, updates the master plan report and airport layout plan, Brock said.

Plan in Depth

"The plan report can be shallow or in depth as you think you need it," the port manager said. "Obviously, it would be more advantageous to plan in depth" he added.

To date, and including the $2.8 million to be allocated for the new terminal building, a total of $8 million has been expended on the apirport.

"The master plan report has to develop a meaningful indicator that can be referred to at regular intervals to determine how accurate the long-range forecast is," Brock emphasized.

Although Brock did not set up a timetable for the future needs at the airport (this will be determined in the report and layout plan), he did note specific areas that will need to be developed.

Without mentioning a priority, Brock called for the construction of 20 additional T-hangars, a general aviation redevelopment program, the hiring of additional personnel, and fire department and fast truck crwes under a multiple-use program.

Pending projects at the airport include the 1,300-foot extension of the north-south runway for $450,000; the terminal building, the master plan revision.

"Because of the population, labor and economic growth potential in this area, we must predict where the airport is going," Brock said.

"The terminal and runway extension were both outlined in the master plan. In fact, the plan noted we'd need the 8,000 foot runway by 1980 and we'll realize that need," he said.

Federal Funds

Brock said the plan report is not a prerequisite of the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) but the layout plan must be approved by the FAA before "we're eligible for federal funds."

"There is a lack of general aviation activity at this airport. The building of 20-T-hangars and a program to entice the general flying public to use our airport because we offer a better facility than other ports must be foremost in our minds when we plan for the future," Brock noted.

With the proposed expansion, Brock suggested the hiring of a second fixed-base operator.

"If we're going to grow we must consider the industrial park complex," he urged.

Industrial Parks

Brock said the chamber of commerce gets requests from industrial firms who would like to locate in Oshkosh. "The first question they ask is do you have an airport," and what does it offer," Brock noted.

"Companies are getting more and more aviation-oriented and will not relocate without the service of a port."

Brock also proposed the construction of aircraft parking ramps in the industrial parks to service the planes.

"Land to be leased for this purpose is certainly compatible with the airport. And let's face it, it's a money-making proposition for the county," the manager said.

Corporation Craft

Brock indicated that it would be advisable to consider the building of hangars for the corporation aircraft.

"I feel it's important that additional zoning be incorporated to include compatible land use," Brock said.

He explained that, at present, airports in Wisconsin are required to have zoning ordinances which pertain only to height, extending from the port boundaries out three miles. With a few exceptions, the Winnebago Airport is zoned agricultural.

"Zoning should be considered now for future development or you might have some developer coming in here constructing an apartment house complex at the end of a future runway. This is how many airports in the county have boxed themselves in," Brock said.

Forecastings

"The master plan is only as good as your forecastings," the manager added. Brock noted that somehow or other "we missed the boat on the north north-south runway extension." The 6,700 foot runway was finished a little over a year ago and already there is a need for the 1,200 foot extension.

One of the factors, Brock pointed out, is the "fantastic progress made in the design of craft and rapid growth in aviation use, both of which are hard to predict."

Brock emphasized that the port is lacking in personnel. "I could keep a man with the title of supervisor of maintenance busy 16 hours a day."

Maintenance Man

The manager said the man would be in charge of field and building maintenance and needed outside inspection of the entire airport area.

He also recommended the inclusion of a multi-use fire department. Brock suggested a type of facility which would open both on the field and street.

"The station crews would be utilized for airport emergencies and immediate city areas," the manager said.

When the layout is completed, "We'll be able to develop the airport plan in stages as the need dictates."

The final decision rests with the county board "And it's part of my job to sell the supervisors on the needs for the future," Brock pointed out.

LCA Cancels Youth Expo

Registration Total Causes Plan Change; High Cost Cited

PHILADELPHIA — Lack of registrations has resulted in cancellation of the Youth Expo of the Lutheran Church in America.

The national meeting, orginally scheduled for Aug. 19-24 in Detroit, had been described as a "new concept" in mass youth gatherings.

The decision to cancel the expo was made here by the Commission on Youth Ministry of the LCA after it was learned that no more than 3,500 could be expected to attend the event planned for 10:00.

(Checks with local congregations showed that Trinity, Appleton, was the only one from the area planning to send delegates. Not all congregations in the Fox Valley were checked, however.)

Fear of Detroit

A number of reasons were given for the small number who had registered, including fear of Detroit, which had suffered one of the worst riots in the country a few years ago; reluctance to risk new forms in youth ministry, and apathy among parishes.

Local ministers, however, cited only one reason for the reluctance — money. It would have cost a youth about $100 to attend the event.

In another action, however, the youth commission approved a youth gathering in conjunction with the convention of the LCA in Minneapolis next year.

300 Maximum

Plans call for a maximum of 300 young people to meet June 25 to July 2, 1970, the same time as the fifth biennial convention of the LCA.

The purpose of this, however, differs a great deal from the intention of the youth expo, because the Minneapolis meeting will give the youths an opportunity to view church work only.

The youth expo would have allowed them to get in contact with "realf life" situations with inner city problems and people.

Lutherans in Italy Name New President

FLORENCE, Italy — A man from Nables, Edouardo Bachrach, has been elected president of the Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Italy.

The Very Rev. Adolf Luedemann was elected dean for another three-year term. A special visitor to the meeting of the 6,000-member church was Ermenenegildo Cardinal Florit, Roman Catholic archbishop of Florence.

English Christians Start Management Agency

LONDON (AP) — A consultancy for advising Christian organizations on modern management techniques has been launched in London.

Called Christian Organizations Research and Advisory Trust, it is registered as a charity and has representatives from the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church and protestant churches on its governing board.

The Saints Are Women

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The Church is becoming a feminine movement with many more women joining than men, according to a survey issued by the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland.

The survey showed that 65 per cent of recruits under 21 and 53 per cent of those over 21 were women.

skills in the electronics industry.

The young people are reading through the first translations done by the committee — the Gospel of John. The committee has asked them to read and underline words or passages they do not understand. When similar portions are returned from the more than 200 laymen involved, the committee will edit the text further.

According to Dr. Edwin H. Palmer, executive secretary of the committee, the revised Gospel of John may be published in the fall if the task of revision can be completed as planned during the smmer months.

The Gospel translation will be the result of more than a year's labor by many Bible scholars.

A team of five translators worked on the early portion of the Gospel during spring 1968. During the summer, and editorial team of seven New Testament specialists reviewed it in sessions at Wheaton College, in Illinois.

Their product was then screened by a general editorial committee meeting on the campus of Calvin Theological Seminary, Grands Rapids, Michigan. The latter committee was composed of 14 men, including Old and New Testament scholars, theologians specializing in doctrine and two English stylists.

Not all the books of the Bible will be published separately as they are completed, according to Dr. Palmer. However, currently being worked on by a group of scholars in St. Louis is the Book of Psalms, which is likely to be published separately.

UCC Names Moderator From Ohio

BOSTON, Mass.:—Richard C. Pfeiffer, president of Tiffin University, Tiffin, Ohio, has been elected moderator of the two-million-member United Church of Christ.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Gibson I. Daniels, Westport, Conn.

Elected vice moderators at the denomination's seventh general synod here were the Rev. Dr. Theodore S. Ledbetter, Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Thomas R. Wagner, Lakeville, Conn.

During his two-year term of office, Pfeiffer will make official visits to UCC regional conferences, associations and local churches and preside over its eighth general synod in 1971. It is the church's highest honorary post.

Union Denomination

The UCC is a union of the Congregational Christian and the Evangelical and Reformed churches.

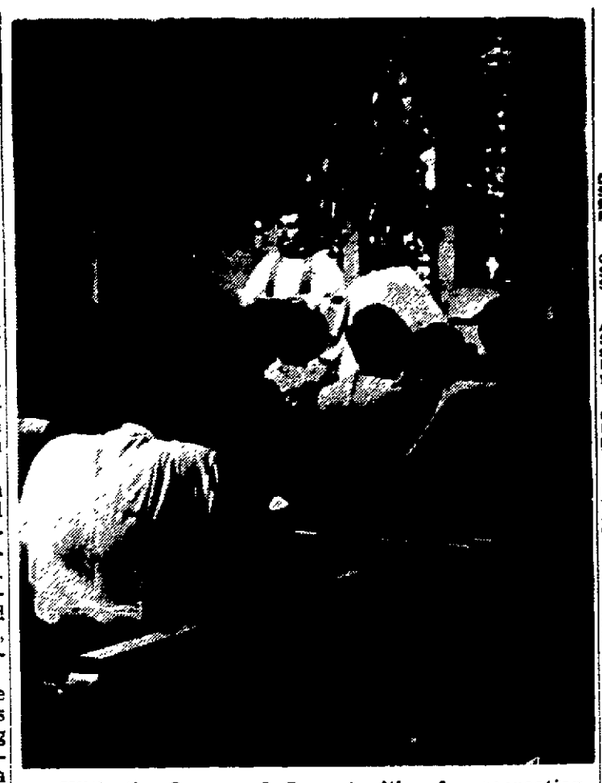

A registered public accountant, he was named president of Tiffin University in 1953. He previously worked in his profession for 20 years.

Born in Ohio, on Dec. 12, 1915, Pfeiffer holds a bachelor of commercial science degree from Tiffin University. He served in the Army as a staff instructor at the Army Finance School in Indianapolis, holding the rank of captain.

Germans Back Women In Ministry Position

HANNOVER, Germany — Delegates to the Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Hannover have strengthened the position of women in ministry.

Rejected and branded as an unjustified "celibacy clause" was a move that would have forced women to "honorably" leave the ministry if they married.

With the Increased Opportunities for recreation and to allow more people to better utilize their free time away from work and the city, many churches in the area now have informal mid-week services, such as the one Thursday evenings at Trinity Lutheran Church. The theory, aptly expressed by the Rev. Charles Holmgren, pastor of Trinity, is that "God meant people to enjoy the beauty of the outdoors and also want to attend a worship service, we should make it available." (Post-Crescent Photo)

Methodists Name Heads for Districts

MADISON — Superintendents for the newly-created eight districts of the United Methodist Church in Wisconsin have been announced by Bishop Ralph Taylor Alton.

The eight districts will replace the present 10 districts which now constitute the three conferences in the United Methodist Church. The new arrangement will go into effect in September.

The recent session of the three conferences of the church in Wisconsin approved the union and put the church into one conference as well as the resolution to pare the 10 districts to eight.

Green Bay Pastor

The North East District, in which the Fox Valley is located, will be headed by the Rev. Dr. Dale Strong, who will continue to live in Green Bay, his location as superintendent of the former Green Bay District.

Heading the East District, with offices in Fond du Lac, will be the Rev. Herbert Zebarth, former superintendent of the Eastern District of the former Evangelical United Brethren Conference.

The Milwaukee District, encompassing greater Milwaukee, will be lead by the Rev. Marvin Shilling, who has been superintendent of the Milwaukee District of the former East Wisconsin Conference. The Rev. Mr. Shilling also was pastor of First Methodist Church in Appleton.

Other districts and their main offices are North West, in Eau Claire; North Central, probably in Stevens Point; South West, Madison; South Central, Madison, and South East, Janesville.

The Central District of the West Wisconsin Conference will be absorbed into the North West, North Central and South West districts. The Fond du Lac District of the East Wisconsin Conference of the former Methodist Church will be divided into the North East, North Central and Eastern districts.

Cells Formed in Britain 'To Defend Pope, Faith'

LONDON (AP) — Unitas, the English Roman Catholic lay organization which says it backs orthodoxy in teaching and return to such practices as the public rosary and Latin mass, is organizing itself into parish cells "to defend the Pope and the faith."

A spokesman said Unitas sought by underground tactics to counter false doctrine and practices which he claimed had found their way, often with clergy support, into parish routine.

English Cleric Designs Pulpit With Mobility

SUTTON-IN-ASHFIELD, England (AP) — Churchman Arthur Quincey has built a mobile pulpit and is offering the design to any clergymen who have difficulty in bridging the gap between themselves and small congregations in large churches where pulpits are a long way from the pews.

It cost less than 15 dollars and can be made in under 10 hours, Quincey says.

The mobile pulpit just hooks on to the pews that are nearest to the congregation.

SELC Directors Ask Approval of ALC Fellowship

NEW YORK — The Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches (SELC) will be called upon at its 43rd biennial convention next fall to "declare and establish fellowship" with the American Lutheran Church.

A resolution recommending favorable action is being submitted to the convention scheduled for Oct. 6-9 at Clark, N.J., by the 21,500-member denomination's board of directors, headed by its president, the Rev. Dr. John Kovac.

A similar proposal will be considered by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod at its 48th general convention in Denver, Colo., July 11-18, on recommendation of its president, Dr. Oliver R. Harms of St. Louis, and its council of presidents, consisting of five synodical vice presidents and 35 district presidents.

The move to further the cause of Lutheran unity was initiated by the American Lutheran Church at its biennial convention in October, 1968 when it declared official pulpit and altar fellowship with the three bodies associated with the ALC in the Lutheran Council in the USA.

Both the LCMS and the SELC, formerly named the Slovak Synod, must vote acceptance or rejection of the proffered fellowship at their convention this year.

British Catholics Okay Ecumenical Venture

LONDON (AP) — The Roman Catholic hierarchy of England and Wales has approved a new ecumenical venture.

Nuns may now help chaplains of all denominations with hospital work and, if their superiors approve, will be encouraged to offer themselves for appointment as Church sisters in state hospitals.

Missionary to 'Visit' First Baptist Via Phone

A special feature of this Sunday's 9 a.m. worship service at First Baptist Church will be a visit with missionaries in El Salvador, through a program known as "TeleMission."

This is a new outreach of the American Baptists, originated by the national offices in Valley Forge, through which the local congregations may engage in conversations with missionaries on their field of service.

Special hook-up makes it possible for the telephone conversation to be amplified. Microphones will pick up conversation and questions from the congregation will be answered by the missionary.

First Baptist members will visit with the Rev. Jason Cedarhold, veteran missionary in Santa Ana, El Salvador. He and Mrs. Cedarhold have been in charge of the Baptist mission schools there.

Constitutional Convention Hit by Assembly Democrats

Keep 'One Man, One Vote' Rule

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Creating a House of Lords in the State Legislature makes as much sense as Wisconsin backing the Dirksen Amendment to call a constitutional convention, Assemblyman Herbert Grover, D-Shawano, told the assembly elections committee Friday.

Leading foes of the Dirksen plan in their fight to make Wisconsin a last-ditch block to the calling on a convention to overturn the "one man, one vote" rule, Grover called upon Wisconsin lawmakes not to "stumble back through the pages of history."

In a major change of position, Assembly Speaker Harold V. Froehlich, R-Appleton, appeared to back the proposal. Two years ago Froehlich opposed such a plan because it would knock down the one man, one vote concept. He represents an urban ward.

Alien Plan

The concept of apportioning state legislatures on any other basis than population, as proposed by the Dirksen Amendment, is so totally foreign to Wisconsin's 121 year history as a state that the lawmakers should have nothing to do with it, said Grover in a hearing in the state capitol that brought the nation's three major television networks out for a look.

"I'll place my political future on the one man, one vote concept," said Grover, pointing out that he represents underpopulated Shawano and Menominee Counties which might have much to gain from representation based on area rather than population.

"Are we going to stumble back through the pages of history?" asked Grover. "I think the Wisconsin Legislature should not participate in tearing this page out. If we are going to do this why don't we go all the way back — why not a House of Lords?" asked Grover.

Control Legislature

The crowded hearing room bathed in hot television lights, Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel, R-Brookfield, defended his proposal by warning that after the census in 1970, it might be possible for the representatives of six southeastern Wisconsin counties to control the legislature unless one house can be apportioned on another basis than the one-man, one-vote principle handed down by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1962.

Merkel warned that if the court doctrine is followed, America might face the tyranny of the majority and minorities might lose all rights.

But Froehlich said that while he still supports that principle, he is willing to "gamble" on holding a constitutional convention in hopes that other topics could also be considered — such as his plan to elect all federal judges.

Froehlich pointed out federal courts decisions by Judge James Doyle of the state's Gordon in the eastern district, in attacking the federal judiciary and saying that the people must have a right to vote on such judges.

"The people need a chance to elect judges. I'm willing to take a chance that this might happen," Froehlich said. "Common sense and reason no longer prevail in a criminal court case."

The Dirksen Amendment, named after Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, proposes a constitutional convention on the one man, one vote question. It is widely debated whether other topics could be considered, as Froehlich desires.

Opponents of the plan warn that if a "wide open" convention could be permitted, the entire Bill of Rights and the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution would come under attack from the right.

33 Approve

To date, 33 states have called for a convention. The national attention given Friday's hearing was based on the state's chance to become the 34th, which seemingly would be the number needed to direct Congress to set up the first such convention in 185 years.

But legal doubts also exist as to the legitimacy of some of the actions by the 33 states, which, critics charge, are currently malapportioned under the one man, one vote decision. Their actions are therefore invalid, the opponents of the Dirksen plan are hoping.

Merkel said that opponents of the plan have become "slaves to a trite, meaningless slogan — one man, one vote."

Gave $950 to 'Policeman'

Elderly Woman Is Victim of Fraud

An 85-year-old Appleton woman lost $950 to a man posing as a policeman Thursday afternoon.

Appleton detectives said there were four unsuccessful pigeon drop attempts Thursday.

The woman who lost the money said a man telephoned her Thursday morning and told her some of her money might have been stolen or misplaced at an Appleton bank. He instructed her to go to the bank, draw out $950 and take it home. He told her someone would come to her home to get the money.

Police had already alerted area banks about the pigeon drop operation here. A bank official cautioned the woman when she drew out the $950, but she reportedly insisted on taking the money.

About 2 p.m. a man came to her house and displayed a badge. He told her to place the $950 in a blank envelope, which she then sealed.

The man then apparently shuffled envelopes and gave her one that later was found to contain 15 pieces of pink paper and size of dollar bills. The discovery was made when the women returned to the bank to redeposit her money.

Bergstrom Interchange Site Switch Adds More 41 Access Headaches

NEENAH — A plan by the district highway office in Green Bay for building the U.S. 41-Bergstrom interchange at Breezewood Lane instead of result in additional access headresult in additional access headaches for the city.

Public Works Director Wayne Bryan sketched some of the problems of having the interchange about one-fourth mile north of Harrison Street earlier this week.

He also said he would meet with Bergstrom Paper Co. officials next week to prepare formal comments on the plans, which have been recommended to the state highway commission.

"There is some concern that the ultimate development of U.S. 41 will make access to the area on the east side of the railroad tracks somewhat difficult," Bryan said Thursday.

If the interchange is built at Breezewood Lane, the city will have to loop its east side access road around a Kampo warehouse, which was allowed to be built there when earlier state plans called for the interchange closer to Harrison Street about a fourth of a mile to the south.

With interchanges planned at Breezewood and at County Trunk GG to the south, this will leave no access for a space of 2¾ miles in a "prime industrial area," meaning frontage roads will be needed.

Another possible problem in the Breezewood interchange is that Breezewood and State 114, which also has an interchange with U.S. 41, both intersect several miles west of U.S. 41, meaning two access roads feeding the same point.

Bryan was somewhat disappointed that the plans do not include elimination of the grade crossing with the railroad spur into Bergstrom.

His meeting next week with Bergstrom officials will be to prepare formal comments for the highway commission, standard procedure before the commission gives judgement on a plan.

"We won't be taking pot shots," Bryan said. "We have some comments that are not too critical but just suggestions that the highway commission look at some of the other possibilities," he added, emphasizing it was not known whether the commission would approve the Breezewood plan.

Workers Vote Down UAW Bid To Unionize

Waupaca Foundry Production Employes Reject Plan; 118-96

WAUPACA — A bid by a division of the United Auto Workers (UAW) to unionize production workers at the Waupaca Foundry, Inc. was defeated here Friday in a representation election.

The employes had their choice of having no union, or being represented by the UAW's Aerospace and Agricultural Equipment Workers, Region 10

The final results of the balloting, announced by an agent of the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), were: Against a union, 118, for the UAW Union, 96; and one vote voided.

There were 214 valid votes cast with six challenges but they had no bearing on the outcome of the election.

Total Ballots

The NLRB spokesman said the work unit — representing the number of employes to cast ballots — totaled 238

Two petitions, stating different numbers for the size of the work unit, had been filed by the union in recent weeks on the heels of an intense organizing campaign.

The union had petitioned the NLRB for the election.

Voting took place at the foundry throughout the day with the tabulations completed shortly after 7 p.m., and results announced then

Under the National Labor Act, either party has five days in which to appeal the election results, providing there are valid grounds. There was no indication the union intended to contest the results

No Problems

The NLRB spokesman said the election went off smoothly

Waupaca Foundry now has union and non-union employe groups although the former are much in the minority

Man Jailed for Cigarette Theft

Roland F. Tracy, 50, whose address was listed only as Atlantic Street in Appleton, was sentenced to 30 days in jail Thursday for the theft of two packages of cigarettes from the Kroger store, 700 W. College Ave.

Appleton police took Tracy into custody at the store about noon. He pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. The jail sentence with Huber Law privileges, was imposed in large part because of Tracy's record.

In Court Third Time

Judge Orders Youth Sent to State School

A 17-year-old Appleton youth who had been in Juvenile Court twice before, Friday was sent to the State School for Boys at Wales.

Outagamie County Judge Raymond P. Dohr, of the Juvenile Court, ordered the commitment after again finding that the youth was delinquent.

An Appleton detective testified that the boy stole a $180 tape recorder from a parked car at radio station WHBY on April 1. Police recovered the recorder from the boy's home this month.

The boy was in court on the latest charge June 16, but Dohr continued proceedings until today after he appointed legal counsel, at the youth's request. The boy pleaded no contest to the theft charge.

Dohr found the boy delinquent on May 12 for offenses which included car theft and burglaries. Dohr, on May 12, placed the boy under supervision of the Outagamie County Department of Social Services.

The boy's attorney placed three witnesses, including the defendant, on the stand today. Most of the defense testimony concerned a purported change for the better in the youth's attitude and behavior.

Action Hinges on Bonding Legislation

Graf: State Sees Need for Bridge Over Little Lake

OSHKOSH — Although it may be premature at this point to second-guess the State Highway Commission, it is apparent that the commissioners recognize the need for the Little Lake Butte des Morts Bridge, Robert Graf, county highway commissioner, said Friday

Graf, and members of the county boards special bridge study committee Wednesday huddled with the state commission in Madison After the lengthy session the bridge proponents were told they would have to wait for the outcome of the bridge bonding legislation before action can be taken on the proposed 1,200 foot span in the Town of Menasha

Petition Hearing

It also was determined that the Town of Menasha would need to petition for a new hearing on the bridge location (1,000 feet north of Ninth Street) before the commission can make a finding on state aid participation on the project

Members of the county study committee, who went to Madison to seek a possible commitment from the state on aids and other answers to questions on problems in actual construction of the bridge, indicated today the "meting was extremely beneficial"

"They aren't trying to delay this project," Graf said. "The commissioners are just following the state statutes (for a new hearing) and it's imperative, because of the lack of finances, to await the outcmoe of legislation on the bonding," the highway commissioner added

"We're in a better position now than we've ever been before," Supv. A. J. Kornder, chairman of the county highway committee, said

State Highway Commission Chairman William Redmond hinted the commission would make a favorable finding for construction of the bridge following the hearing and legislation for bonding.

"It would be difficult to second-guess the commissioners now but it's apparent to me that this project is moving ahead," Graf said

Graf noted he wasn't surprised at the outcome of the meeting. "I felt all along that until some other financing is available, the state wouldn't make a commitment."

'On Record'

The county board passed a resolution "going on record favoring expending $2.5 million for the bridge." However, the county had not specifically committed the funds for the span

Redmond said the resolution had no bearing on the outcome of Wednesday's session He also pointed out the county had not actually expended any money for the bridge

Graf indicated today the resolution held no weight. "I favor buying a Cadillac. . .but what have I really said?" he said

Apparently, there was a lack of communication on the need for a new hearing Graf said he knew a hearing would be required "because a different municipality originally requested the petition." In 1965, the City of Menasha petitioned the state for a hearing. The commission reserved its decision at that time because of a lack of funds

The bridge study committee Wednesday expressed surprise when learning of a need for a new hearing. "We never discussed on the local level," Graf said. "I thought it was general knowledge that a new hearing would be required but I guess it wasn't," he said.

Financial Picture

However, the hearing is not the great issue here, Graf noted Until the financing picture becomes clearer, he said, "We'll have to wait for the state to take action."

Engineers hired by the county to do a preliminary study on bridge costs, reported that because of rising construction costs, the bridge itself will exceed $975,000. Adding engineering fees and approaches, the total cost would be in the neighborhood of $3 million

The engineering firm also recommended that an additional structure (costing about $800,000) be constructed across above the railroad tracks on U.S. 41 and provide a temporary loop and access point on U.S. 41 on the southbound lane.

Overhead Reasons

Oshkosh Supv. Lyle Raddatz, a member of the bridge study committee, said today, "If the state wasn't involved in the bridge, I'm sure there would be no overhead on the highway."

And the Oshkosh supervisor also felt the $2.5 million resolution made the county "look a little foolish." Raddatz said, "I felt all along that the resolution might hurt us. It's not the right approach to attempt to push something down their throats," he added.

Oshkosh Supv. Arthur Struensee was elated that the bridge has "high priority." He wasn't adamant on the resolution controversy as Raddatz but said, "It may not have done much good but it did show the willingness of the county to go along on the project."

Highway Connection

Kornder believes the "big sticker here is the connection to the superhighway." The Oshkosh supervisor contends that the bridge and $45 million interchange on U.S. 41 are "separate propositions."

He doesn't believe the local municipalities will be responsible for any portion of costs for the proposed interchange even if the bridge was included in the state plans as an interconnection.

In respect to the $800,000 overhead ramp, Kornder said, "It may fit into the interchange pattern. If we built it, the state would have to tear some of it out in order to fit it into its own pattern."

"There's more to this than meets the eye. We also must take into consideration the northbound lane on this interchange," he added.

Both Graf and Kordner discussed the possibility of the bridge being included in the I-system route from Milwaukee to Green Bay.

Urban Center

Kordner also mentioned the Fox Valley Council of Governments transportation study which would earmark this area as a metropolitan population urban center.

Under this proposition, communities of Neenah-Menasha, Appleton and all the way to Kaukauna would be so designated, thus, opening the door to federal monies available for bridge and highway construction.

Menasha Supv. Roland Kampo, also a member of the bridge study committee, asked Redmond if State 47 or U.S. 10 could be re-routed as part of the Little Lake Butte des Morts bridge scheme

"We're not talking here today about re-routing traffic to tie in with State 47," Redmond said. "The building of the bridge is a local option. We can't be planning for a state trunk system across the bridge when we don't have a state highway route in the first place," the commission chairman added. However, he noted that a separate hearing would be required to change or reroute any trunk system.

Graf said the building of an interchange doesn't indicate a desire or intention of rerouting traffic.

He mentioned the Ninth Street - U.S. 41 project in Oshkosh. "Just because Ninth Street is included in the interchange on the superhighway doesn't mean it changes the status of the road (Ninth Street) he said.

Road Status

"The status of the road doesn't change the financing picture for the interchange," Graf noted. The Ninth Street interconnection with U.S. 41 is required to handle the traffic flow and this is what made it desirable," Graf added.

"I see a potential of connecting the future Little Lake Butte des Morts bridge on U.S. 41 on the I-system," Graf said

"The potential is there but I don't think the highway commission is too interested in this proposition at this point because they don't have corridors established yet for the I-system."

Clintonville Pupils Tour Two Counties

Summer School Trip Includes Visit To Camp, Shipyards

CLINTONVILLE — An educational trip covering historic sites and areas of interest of northern Wisconsin was made by summer school pupils and teachers from here this week.

Included in the Thursday trip which covered the Brown County Forestation Camp and Door County, was a visit to the orchards and shipyards.

The intense rain, however, made the nature trails impassable.

The forestation camp housed many animals and birds, both those common to the state and from other countries.

After lunch, the group traveled to Door County where the apple and cherry orchards and dairy farms were seen from the highway.

A stop was made at the statue of Jean Nicolet on the Red Banks. Appropriately this statue was a gift to Wisconsin in 1939-40 by the school children of the state.

A bus trip into Potawatomi State Park was abruptly cancelled when the storm in the area became severe.

The trip into the Sturgeon Bay area was to see the shipyards While driving through Sturgeon Bay, a large ocean steamer was just making its way through the Bay.

Next week grades 1, 2 and 3 will travel to New London to visit the museum; grade 4 will visit the Hohenstein trout ponds and grades 5 and 6 will visit the disposal plant.

Correction

KAUKAUNA — A Post-Crescent story Thursday read, about 5 per cent of the Methodist Church membership voted in favor of building a new church when actually it should have read 25 per cent of the membership.

The Church has over 400 members and the vote was 92-22 in favor of building.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a mother who is writing about a father-son hassle that promises to get worse.

We have three teen-agers, a girl and two boys — all good kids. They have never been in trouble and we are proud of them. The 17-year-old boy is having a serious problem with his father. Ty has always been a good baseball player and his Dad has loved basking in his reflected glory. This year Ty has decided he doesn't want to play ball. His Dad hit the roof. He tried everything, incluing bribery, but the boy says he has lost interest.

As punishment for Ty's "stubbornness" his father has threatened to sell the boy's car. Ty paid for the car but it's in his father's name. I think it would be cruel to do this and I've said so. My husband insists Ty doesn't want to play ball anymore because he'd rather run around with hoodlums and chase girls. I don't believe this is true.

What should be done? — Trouble Brewing

Dear Trouble: No boy should be forced to participate in a sport if he has lost interest in it. To punish the boy by selling his car would be unjust. I suggest that a third party (clergyman, friendly lawyer or doctor) listen to both father and son and act as an impartial judge.

To Your Good Health

Toenail Trouble May Be Caused by Fungus

By George C. Thosteson, M. D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am the victim of thick, hard, and unshapely toenails and am led to believe this may be from some type of fungus.

If it is a fungus in your opinion, will you advise whether some medication could be used to correct it, or would surgery be the only solution? — C. L.

This can result from fungus infections, and in the last few years a couple of very effective drugs have been developed to combat fungus infections. They dont attack all types of fungus, but they do effective work with some prevalent types. Both are prescription drugs. There are numerous older medications which can be tried, too.

Therefore, I'd suggest that you have a podiatrist (specialist in foot problems) or your regular physician give you an accurate diagnosis. It it is a fungus, and if it does not respond to the available medications, surgery to remove the nails may be in order. The fungus, you see, can invade the tissues under the nail and be difficult to treat.

However, such thick, unshapely nails can be from quite different causes. In fact, this trouble, uncommon in young people, can cause a good deal of concern as we grow older.

Trauma over the years, especially from wearing snug footwear, can cause such trouble. Another cause, often overlooked, is inadequate pedicare.

Most people look after their fingernails but forget their toenails. Daily use of a nail file keeps material from accumulating under fingernails. But how many people bother with toenails? As this material gradually accumulates, it hardens, and distorts the shape and size of the nails. After it has hardened, it cannot be dislodged by ordinary means. In such cases, it is well worthwhile to have professional attention, to get the nails back into more manageable condition.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I shocked a visiting cousin by stuffing a turkey the day before cooking it. (She said she stayed only because her will was in order.)

My family has always done this, and we're still around to pick at the bones. Is there a real danger?—E. McD.

Done wrong, such stuffing ahead of time can cause "food poisoning." Since you haven't suffered I assume that you have been doing it correctly.

Dr. Thosteson

Stuffing should not be warm when put into the carcass.

Once stuffed, the bird should be kept cool, and preferably refrigerated, until roasting time.

The key to the whole matter is the fact that germs thrive in warmth and can multiply to harmful numbers in 18 to 24 hours — less time in extreme warmth, like potato salad or other foods kept in the hot hatch of a car for several hours on the way to a picnic in July.

I like the aphorism that Dr. Molner used to repeat: Keep it hot, keep cold, or don't keep it at all.

The question isn't when you stuff the turkey; it's whether you keep it cold until time to cook it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a hysterectomy three years ago. Would like to know if I could join a bowling league or is the ball too heavy? — G. V.

The tissues have long since healed, and you can do whatever you wish without harm.

The Bugging of Dr. King's Phone

The wiretaps ordered on the phone of the late Dr. Martin Luther King by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and authorized, according to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, by the late Senator Robert Kennedy, may well have been justified for national security reasons. There probably are active Communists or other subversives working within civil rights organizations for purposes quite different from that of the organizations.

But there is also the suspicion that a personal vendetta between Mr. Hoover and Dr. King could have had something to do with it.

Only a few months before he was killed Dr. King had severely criticized the F. B. I.'s role in what he claimed were the suppression of civil rights for Negroes. Mr. Hoover replied in no uncertain terms as to his poor opinion of Dr. King and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. This alone certainly should not prompt electronic surveillance since Mr. Hoover is charged with a responsibility as far as internal threats to security are concerned. His fear of subversives is probably quite genuine.

But Mike Royko of the Chicago Daily News has reported more disturbing information. He writes that he talked to an ex-F. B. I. agent whom he knew and who told him about the extensive wiretapping and other bugging of Dr. King's conversations. The ex-agent had been shown some of the F. B. I. files on Dr. King. But the information he gave Royko, according to the newsman, had nothing whatever to do with national security or the leadership of the civil rights movement. "They were none of my business, and they were none of his business. They were nobody's business but Dr. King's."

Royko writes further that he found other such disclosures had been made to other newsmen and he concludes that it might have been a concerted F. B. I. effort at smear that once again had nothing to do with nationaly security.

And here are the dangers of extensive electronic surveillance. A great many of us would prefer not to have bedroom conversations made public. President Nixon may have the greatest confidence in Mr. Hoover but we have our doubts.

Tracking Absconding Parents

At intervals the state legislature enacts a law that is so eminently logical and sensible as to occasion wonder that it was not conceived many years earlier.

Thus Chapter 40 of the Wisconsin Laws of 1969, published a few weeks ago and now effective, creates a "locator service" that is given the mandate to ascertain the whereabouts of parents who have deserted their children, and other persons liable for the support of dependents.

The law assigns the responsibility for such work to the State Department of Health and Social Services, but apparently because it involves skills and techniques that are not now represented on its staff and because the legislation did not provide funds for the financing of the service, that agency is now asking that the State Department of Justice be recognized by the lawmakers as a more appropriate agency for making such investigations.

The high and rising cost of public assistance in a time of unparalleled productivity and income is an irritant to many taxpayers.

In Milwaukee County, because of the inmigration of thousands of underprivileged persons from other sections of the country, the funding of relief budgets is one of the recurring crises of the community.

In many localities including Milwaukee, divorce and the failure of the responsible spouse to make support payments, or outright desertion of his family by a parent, are among the chief causes of child dependency and high relief rolls. Together they constitute a major cause of swelling assistance payrolls and a level of taxation to support them that is creating increasing apprehension in the locality, as in Madison.

Searching and finding deserting parents and other persons liable for the support of dependents is beyond the resources of the local governments, even such a metropolitan government as that of the county of Milwaukee.

Establishment of a search service in the Department of Justice is the logical alternative. With computerized services available at the capitol, there are scores of record files that can be screened usefully, hunting and fishing licenses, tax returns, motor vehicle registrations, driver licenses, employment service files, among many others. The new law commands all other agencies, state and local, to cooperate with the department to the limit of their resources. We learn that the state of California, which has such a service, recovered $80,000,000 last year after locating absconding fathers. If Wisconsin can make a proportionate record, the costs will be returned a hundred times over.

High school and college class reunions are in full swing across the country, and old yearbooks will be dug out of closets and attics as graduates of classes gone by try to recapture some of the memories of their school days.

It's unlikely that many of those yearbooks, however, can match the recent edition of the Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia. It features a centerfold color picture of a brunette wearing a white nurse's cap and a small pearl pendant but nothing else. She is lying on a blue rug, reading a medical text.

We suppose that a case could be made that such a foldout would be most appropriate in a medical school's yearbook. But that doesn't stop us from questioning the reason the yearbook manager gave for putting a nude in the yearbook: "to get it more widely distributed." That can be interpreted as good business sense, and evidently it worked, since student demand for the annual really soared. It also can be interpreted as a joke, which was the view taken by the school's dean of men.

But then we stop to wonder who the joke will be on when physicians' children of future years glance through their fathers' yearbooks from medical school in future years and find the centerfold. If the permissiveness our society currently is going through does result in a backlash of Victorian type prudishness, as has been suggested, somebody is going to have some interesting explaining to do.

Pope Paul Is Truly 'Apostle on Move'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI, who recently made a historic visit to Geneva, Switzerland, the heartland of Calvinist tradition, plans another "first" — a trip to Africa in July.

Nearly every one of his trips has been a "first" of some sort.

When he traveled to the Holy Land in January, 1964, it made him the first Pope to fly, the first Pope to use a jet, the first Pope since the time of St. Peter to go to the Holy Land and the first Pope to set foot in Moslem Jordan and Jewish Israel.

In December, 1964, he traveled to India, becoming the first modern Pope to visit an Asian land. His trip to the United Nations in New York in October, 1965, was the first papal transatlantic crossing in history and the first papal visit to America. He was in Fatima, Portugal, in May, 1967, for a first papal visit to that country.

He was the first Pope in 12 centuries to go to Turkey, when he visited Istanbul in July, 1967, and he was the first Pope to go to Latin America when he flew there last August.

LAST TRIP IN 1809

The last Pope to leave Italy before Paul was Pius VII. Napoleon had him seized in Rome in 1809 and kept him a political prisoner in France until 1814. John XXII made a 400-mile train trip within Italy in 1962 and his successor, Paul, set the new pattern for the jet age in his self-styled mission as "an apostle on the move."

When Pope Paul carries out his current travel plans this summer, he will have flown by jetliner more than 44,000 miles — almost twice around the earth

On July 31, he will head for the heart of Africa on his first visit to that continent and his eighth trip abroad. His purpose is to consecrate a shrine to 22 black martyrs in Kampala, capital of Uganda on the north shore of Lake Victoria

Uganda, which straddles the equator, has 28 million Catholics among its population of 7 75 million. It also has other Christians, Moslems and animists, those who believe there are spirits in all objects.

The Uganda martyrs, slain in the late 19th century during religious persecution, were canonized in 1964.

Besides dedicating the shrine in Kampala, the 71-year-old Pope said he would meet prelates at the first all-Africa bishops' conference.

Referring to the 29 million Roman Catholics in Africa, the Pope told a crowd at a papal Mass in March:

"We have been repeatedly and pressingly invited by many bishops and the faithful to make a visit to Africa, particularly to Uganda, where the new sanctuary is being busily constructed and where an altar has been raised to the honor of the African martyrs whom we have had the blessed fortune to canonize."

Wisconsin Report

Anti-Bureaucratic Theme Evident In This Session of Legislature

By JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — If the 1969 Wisconsin Legislature is remembered by future state historians for any reason except its apparent acceptance of the highest ration of expenditure increase in the life of the state government, it will probably be for the theme of anti-bureaucracy that has run through its proceedings since last January.

Never before has the administrative office holding establishment in general, and individual officers, been subject to the kind of criticism that almost approaches contempt that has been their lot this year.

In speeches on the floor, in punitive proposals for new legislation (some of them being adopted) in the product of the legislators' crew of publicity writers and otherwise, the professional fulltime civil servants and appointed officers heading major agencies have been lambasted again and gin — and not only by the conservative Republicans as sometimes supposed.

DEMOCRATS ADD CRITICISM

Some of the most critical comment has come from some of the Democrats, who are persuaded either that they are responsive to the wishes of their constituents, or that they have legitimate grievances that ought to be brought before the public

This report has no special objection to such attitudes and activities. If the legislature mirrors the body politic, as intended, if it is a slice of the potential life of the state, perhaps such surveillance is a good thing. If the legislature is not representative, if some of the most hostile of these lawmakers are reading public opinion wrong, they will earn their lessons at the polls when they seek new terms — as most of them always do.

But it is pertinent to note that such anti-bureaucratic oratory and action is not always quite intelligible.

GOOD EXAMPLE CITE

A good current example is the ease with which the Assembly has voted in effect to negate a solid waste disposal law that it enacted only two years ago with a good deal of self-congratulations.

It gave regulatory powers to the State Department of Natural Resources, the logical repository for such authority remembering its other and related duties and responsibilities. The department held hearings, ran into some resistance to the first draft of its regulatory plan, consented to some modifications, and adopted the amended rules and made them effective But the towns lobby was not satisfied. It appealed to the legislature to intervene, which the legislature eagerly did

The result is a bill now before the Senate that will gut the concept of consistent statewide waste disposal management by permitting county boards, which retain many town chairmen as members, to veto or amend the rules of the state agency.

AUTHORITY DELEGATED

None of these agencies would have any rule-making power whatever, except that succeeding legislatures over a period of generations have delegated authority to them in the recognition that expert knowledge is required in scores of technical fields beyond the ken of the legislature.

Sometimes the legislature's reactions seem to reflect an animus born of jealousy — as in the amendment to the Senate version of the budget bill that would require explicit legislative approval of all executive salaries beyond $25,000 a year.

It is not difficult to guess that some of the resentment here was the result of the public criticism that inevitably follows any proposal to augment the far more modest salaries of the legislature itself. It is also true that the state administrative salary scheme is shot through with inconsistencies. In some agencies the sky is the limit. In others there are scales that are two low

WON'T IMPROVE MORAL

Comparison of the pay provided for some of the similar ranking jobs shows obvious discrimination, although it is difficult to believe that the causes were other than accidental Reform in this field is desirable and long overdue. But to subject a state officer's salary raise to the whim of the legislature, is to put a whip over him that is scarcely calculated to improve his morale ro efficiency.

Come back and observe us someday and make a re-evaluation.

Hopes Negro Sister Comes Back to City

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

Subject: Response to "I am no Different From You," by Sister Margaret Brown, OSP, View, June 22, 1969.

In response to your article in View, I have a few comments to make:

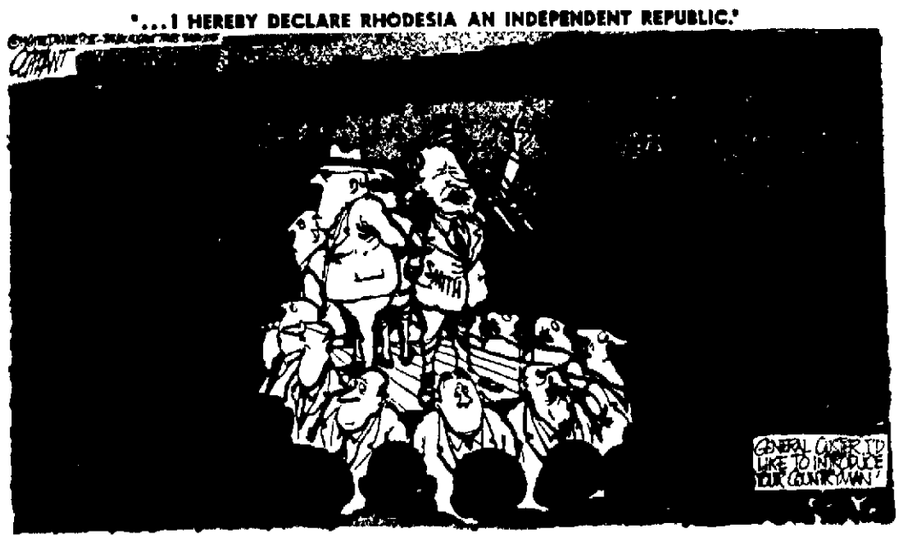

I probably would think the same as you do of your feelings in being a Negro in an all white community. I wonder, however, if it would be any different if I was in a similar situation — an all black community. Isn't it natural, wherever it may be in this world, that a stranger, let it be because of nationality, religion, race or cititenship, would be treated within a frame of reference based on suspicion, wonderment and toleration? I am not sure if you told what you did to dispell this initial reaction.

I can't believe that you can generalize on the attitude of our white community towards the Negro group. For one thing many of us are "imports" from other places and have discovered long ago that the worth of an individual is not based on the color of his skin or the prejudice of others. And I believe that you can be a true native of Appleton and believe that also.

I have lived in this community for 12 years and I agree there is a certain amount of complacency and self-satisfaction found here. However, this is found generally in almost any middle class community, regardless of race. Appleton is not standing still. There is a spirit to be found of eagerness to better the community and to dissolve false ideas about others.

I hope that you find what you want in some other place.

Men Get Old at 50, Says English Expert

EASTBOURNE, England (AP) — Many men are only 50 when they start showing the first signs of old age, according to a medical expert addressing a congress of the Royal Society of Health. Dr. C A Boucher said one symptom is no longer taking much notice of a pretty girl in the street.

Tough, New Alaskans Thaw Frozen Frontier

WASHINGTON — More than ever, Alaska is a land of bonanzas and bare-knuckled manhood, meeting 20th century challenges in its own way

Along the back country frontiers long known to the Eskimo, sourdough miner, trapper, and bush pilot, a new breed of Alaskan is answering the call of the wild and breaking trail over wider horizons.

Thomas J. Abercrombie, who traveled 40,000 miles by plane, foot, fishing boat, and walrus-hide canoe, describes the new Alaska in the April issue of National Geographic

Fur trappers now check their traplines by snowmobile "Sled dogs were good company on the trail," one oldtimer told Mr. Abercrombie, "but slow — and expensive to keep in feed the year round."

Trap Fashion Favorites

One trapper carefully reads the latest fashion magazines so that his snares always will be baited to supply the latest in desirable furs.

Eskimo walrus hunters prusue the one-ton beasts with rifles instead of spears, drifting near them aboard canoes powered by outboards.

Fishermen in sturdy boats ride out 70-mile-an hour winds to net sockeye salmon, worth more than $1 a fish.

Oul drillers brave winds that stab like nails to bring in 190,000 barrels a day, pushing Alaska into eighth place among oil-producing states

Much Copper Ore

Doctors and lawyers, like gundes and hunters, fly everywhere. Some 500 airports dot the state.

Geologists and miners in Alaska's frozen heartland ponder hoy they can best ship out copper ore 35 to 60 times richer than in Utah's mines.

Archeologists search the state for early man. Carbon-14 reading of debris left by Ice Age campers at one site suggests that man first may have set foot on North America 15,000 years ago.

Ancient hunters' spearheads discovered in Alaska closely match those found in Asia, indicating that humans crossed a land bridge between present-day Alaska and Siberia as the ice Age sea level dropped

These earliest American explorers may have followed wandering caribou herds to the new continent.

Alaska today—with 586,400 square miles, the biggest of all 50 states — is home to the smallest population, 272,000.

Today's Alaskans include 54,000 Indians, Aleuts, and Eskimos — all busily learning modern ways with varying degrees of success. But few can match the jump into the jet age made by Eskimo teenagers doing the frug to electronic guitars in ice-bound Barrow on the Arctic Ocean.

Steamships, jets, private planes, and cars annually bring 100,000 visitors to the 49th state. The influx represents substantial revenue — some 36 times the total income earned by panning and digging gold.

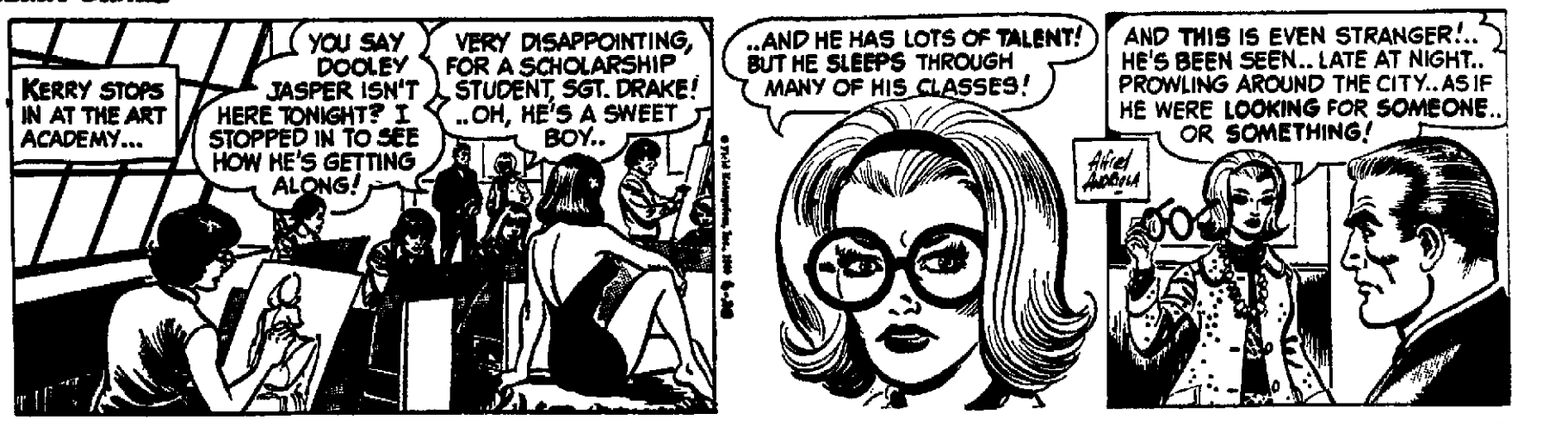

As one Alaskan told Mr. Abercrombie: "Folks used to clamber up here looking for gold; these days they're bringin' it up with 'em."

Carbon Paper Drawing Stunt Reveals a Hidden Picture

BY CAPPY DICK

The drawing stunt which is today's fun-project for boys and girls is a lot of fun.

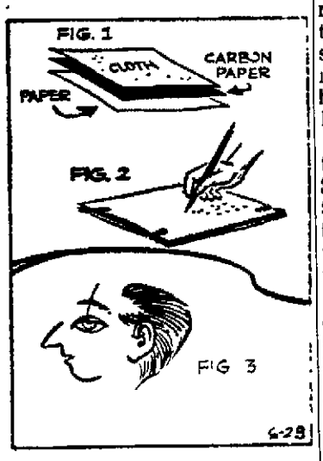

The first step is to prepare the "sandwich" shown in figure 1. This consists of a piece of plain paper with a sheet of carbon paper on top of it and a piece of plain cloth for the topmost layer.

Use four paper clips to fasten the sandwich together so none of the parts will slip.

The next step is to draw a picture — a face, a bowl of fruit, a flower or anything else you choose. This is to be done with the non-writing end of a pen. The lines of the drawing are made on the cloth. The end of the pen will leave no marks or identations on the cloth, so you will have nothing to guide you in making the various lines of the picture.

When you believe you have completed the drawing, take the sandwich apart to see the lines the carbon paper has left on the white paper. Chances are you will be surprised to see how funny the picture is. Figure 3 shows a typical result, the various parts of the face being separated from each other. On the other hand, you may be surprised to find that you have been so capable as to have completed a presentable picture with all parts properly connected.

Monday: Lots more good fun for every boy and girl!

Ashland County Will Sell Island Tracts to State

ASHLAND (AP)—The state's role in development of the Apostle Islands as a wilderness preserve with some recreational improvements has been given a boost by Ashland County's Board of Supervisors.

The board voted 16-1 to sell tracts on Basswood, Oak and Stockton islands to the state for $201,000. The state was one of four bidders, but the only one to bid for all the available tracts.

Portions of the three islands are already a part of Apostle Islands State Forest, and could figure in a federal-state project for making the islands and adjoining Bayfield County shoreline a national lakeshore preserve.

The lakeshore bill has been approved by committee, and is advancing toward action by the Senate and House.

A. H. Ehly of the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources said the state plans to preserve the new Ashland County acquisitions in a natural state, but that hiking trails and a boat landing could be developed.

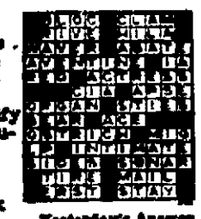

The tracts include about 5,000 acres on Oak Island, and 135 acres on Basswood and Stockton islands.

'Blind, Unemotional' Presses

Newspaper Firm Boycotted For Printing 'Kaleidoscope'

PORT WASHINGTON (AP) — Can a newspaper publishing firm be held morally and legally responsible for the content of news publications produced in its commercial printing plant?

A controversy over this previously unexplored issue seems to be in the making, centered around Port Publications, Inc., which prints the Milwaukee underground newspaper Kaleidoscope in its commercial printing facility in Port Washington.

The central individuals involved are William F. Schanen Jr., president of Port Publications, and Benjamin Grob, president of Grob, Inc., a Grafton tool manufacturing firm.

Schanen also is the publisher of three weekly newspapers, the Ozaukee Press, the Mequon Squire and the Grafton-Cedarburg Citizen, all printed in the same plant.

500 Letters

Grob acknowledged Friday that he had sent out about 500 letters charging that "a Port Washington newspaper prints obscene literature for profit," and adding that he would not buy space in the newspaper or buy things from anyone who advertises in the paper.

Schanen and his son, William F. Schanen III, editor of the Press, published a signed, full page ad in the newspaper stating that they had lost "thousands of dollars worth of ads" for coming issues of the paper.

"We do not write such trash," the Schanens' ad said. "We do not condone attacks on religion. We have never used four-letter words in the Ozaukee Press. We and most of the people working at the Ozaukee Press are members of the Catholic Church."

Respect Rights

The Schanens said their Port Publications is a printing facility open to the public. They said they "respect the rights of other editors to maintain their independence and not be coereced by the printer.

"We have absolutely nothing to do with the ideas, the writing or the editing of any paper but our own."

The elder Schanen added, "Our presses are blind and unemotional. . . . We do not even set the type of Kaleidoscope, an underground newspaper, but scan it for libelous material."

Schanen said the three newspapers he prints stand to lose $100,000 within a year if cancellations continue at their present rate. He said a grocery chain that had been buying approximately three pages of advertising a week "abruptly and without explanation" canceled the ad and refused to permit the newspaper to be sold in its stores.

Schanen said critics of the press were trying to put it out of business.

Destroying Good Guys

"In effect,' he said, "they are destroying the good guys while leaving the bad guys exist."

Schanen said people who disapprove of the Kaleidoscope apparently want him to exercise censorship. He said they should direct their complaint to Kaleidoscope itself.

"I don't think a printer should deny his facility to a justifiable use, a proper use, a legal use."

The printing of several newspapers in th e commercial job shops of other newspaper firms is common practice in Wisconsin and elsewhere, both in the daily and weekly field.

It is a matter of economics among weekly publications, foreign language newspapers and shopping guides which cannot afford to maintain printing plants of their own.

David W. Oberlin, 49, director of the Duluth port, is about to be nominated by President Nixon to be administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway, according to Rep. John Blatnik, D-Minn. Blatnik says Oberlin was recently unanimously recommended for the post by seaway port directors. (AP Wirephoto)

Escaped in 1962

Winnie Judd Caught In California Village

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted of double murder in a sensational trial in 1933 and missing since she escaped from an Arizona mental hospital in 1962, has been captured in a suburban village east of San Francisco where she was working as a domestic.

Sheriff's Lt. Robert Sang said the woman convicted of murdering her two best girl friends in Phoenix in 1931, and shipping their remains to Los Angeles "steadfastly denies she is Winnie Ruth Judd."

But Sang, a crew-cut veteran detective, said he identified her through fingerprints, old photos and a scar on her left index finger.

He conceded that the woman who was working as a cook and housekeeper under the name of Marian Lane "looks about 10 years younger" than Winnie Ruth Judd's 64 years..

Plump, Matronly

The woman, who says she's 54, is plump and matronly compared with the wasted woman who walked away from Arizona State Hospital seven years ago in her seventh escape.

She was picked up at 2 p.m. Friday by Sang and Sgt. Joe Walsh at the Danville home of Dr. John Blemer, a general practitioner vacationing with his wife in Europe.

Sang said "everything she has indicates she is Marian Lane," but that "information from both inside and outside" California, as well as his own fingerprint check, led him to believe Marian Lane is Winnie Ruth Judd, once known as "the tiger woman."

He booked her as a fugitive from an Arizona mental institution and said Arizona would extradite her.

The woman was located during checks on the still unsolved homicide death in nearby Alamo of Mrs. Z. Alexander Aarons, wife of a psychiatrist. She was beaten to death last April 28.

Sang said Lt. David Gardella, a detective for 25 years, checking license plates on cars visiting the psychiatrist's home-office, came upon one registered to Marian Lane.

He added Gardella, now in Italy, did not suspect the Lane woman of being involved in the Aarons murder, but "felt there was something wrong" about her. Investigation led him to suspect she was Mrs. Judd, and after more checks the arrest was made Friday.

Viet Cong Say Camp Doomed

North Vietnamese. Only two supply convoys have been able to get through to the camp this week.

Air Force cargo planes have dropped nearly 200 tons of supplies into the camp since June 10, Air Force spokesmen said.

Some Americans at Ben Het say that if the camp is the main target of the enemy push, then only the constant Air Force B52 and fighter-bomber strikes, and the enormous artillery support, have averted it so far.

Earlier today, a security patrol discovered two enemy tunnels under the barbed wire perimeter of an American artillery base at Ben Het., military spokesmen said.

Spokesmen said the trenches led to a series of trenches inside the camp indicating the enemy wanted to reach the heart of the base and blow it up, a tactic the Viet Minh used in 1954 against the French in the battle at Dien Bien Phu.

Agencies May Have to Spend Below Budget

MADISON (AP) — State agencies were asked Friday to prepare for a reduction in all programs by seven per cent below current spending levels.

Budget director Paul Brown said he took the step as a precaution against agencies' spending more money than might be available under current tax programs, which would have to suffice until a new budget is in operation.

The legislature appears to be weeks away from a settlement over the $1.65 billion budget recently passed by the Senate

The bill is before the Assembly where it is expected to undergo major changes.

The new two-year fiscal period is supposed to begin next Tuesday.

"I'm alerting agencies that they should plan to phase their expenditures so they can cut back by seven per cent if there is not action on the budget," Brown said.

Officer From Racine Is Victim in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon reported Friday that Air Force Capt. Gary E. Brunner of Racine, Wis., has been killed in action in Vietnam. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett D. M. Brunner of Racine.

Faculty, Student Suspension Bill Passed by Senate

MADISON (AP) — State college students and faculty members could be suspended for unlawful campus gatherings under a bill approved Friday before state senators began a 10-day holiday.

The suspension measure was adopted without debate, and the Senate postponed action on other matters before abandoning the Capitol until July 8, except for some skeleton sessions. The Assembly is in recess until Wednesday.

The campus bill calls for suspending university employes for up to six months without pay should they be convicted of participating in an unlawful assembly.

State statutes already provide penalties of up to $500 and a year in jail.

Newspaper Says Finch Will Resign

DETROIT (AP) — Robert Finch will resign as U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare within a month, the Detroit Free Press reported in a dispatch from Washington today.

Citing "top Republican congressional sources," the newspaper article by William Vance, said Finch, angry and bitterly disappointed over President Nixon's refusal to appoint Dr. John H. Knowles as the nation's top health officer, will return to California and re-enter politics.

Finch had been California's lieutenant governor until he resigned to accept the Cabinet post in the Nixon administration. The Free Press said he is reportedly considering running for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by Republican George Murphy.

Finch denied Thursday a report he had threatened to quit if Knowles were not nominated. The report had appeared in the Los Angeles Times.

But the "congressional sources" said their information on Finch's coming resignation came directly from the White House, the Free Press said.

What Judgment Will History Pass on General Eisenhower?

Here is what Relman Morin, two-time Pulitzer prize winner, says in the first full length, complete biography of the man:

"Eisenhower goes into history as one of the most popular of Presidents, in whom Americans recognized an earnest,' kindly, sincere man of unquestionable integrity.

"As a politican he was almost unique in that he was wholly without the 'jugular instinct,' the urge to destroy an enemy; he was more prone to turn the other cheek.

"He also was one of the most selfless Presidents, less concerned with his popularity and the expedient actions that might enhance it than what he considered the well being of the United States and her allies.

"When Eisenhower came to office, bitterness and rancor divided the nation; when he left, an era of good feeling had replaced the sense of divisiveness. The credits far outweighed the debits in his presidency."

Morin's judgment is based on long professional and personal acquaintance with the general, and on a year's study and research; which included long conversations with him and with many of his associates and, best of all, access to his private letter files.

The result is a big book (8½ by 11 inches, 264 pages, more than 85 pictures in black and white and color, and a 140,000 word text.)

Foxes Outlast Twins, 7-6; Race Goes Down to Wire

Cards Upend Cubs, 3-1

Astros Continue Hot

By DICK COUCH

Harry Walker won't admit it, but he's trying to hatch a home-made moon-shot in the Houston Astrodome.

Walker's astounding Astros nipped Atlanta 5-4 in the ninth inning Friday night for their 10th consecutive victory and a space walk in fourth place in the National League's tight West Division race.

The Astros' second 10-game orbit of the season shot them within 4½ lengths of pace-setting Los Angeles and brought on the first symptoms of that dizzying high-altitude phenomenon —pennant fever.

"This club is great, isn't it?" Jim Wynn beamed after ex-Brave Marty Martinez poked the game-winning single in the ninth, lifting Houston to its 26th triumph in 31 home games. "Ten in a row and fourth place. Who says we can't win this thing?"

"With the pitching we have, it's always possible," added Joe Morgan. "Yeah, we can win our division—why not? Look where we're at right now."

"I don't even think about things like that," insisted Manager Walker, proclaiming he still takes his tomorrows one at a time. "But they just keep bouncing back."

20-4 Mark

While the Astros, mired in the division cellar two months ago after losing 20 of their first 24 starts, vaulted into contention, San Diego ended an 11-game tailspin by blanking Los Angeles 5-0 behind right-hander Joe Niekro.

Despite the loss, the Dodgers remained one-half game in front of the Braves. Third place Cincinnati moved 2½ games off the pace with a 4-3, 9-1 doubleheader sweep over San Francisco that dropped the Giants to fifth —five games out.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh trimmed the New York Mets 3-1, St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 3-1 and Philadelphia shaded Montreal 8-7.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Detroit 4-1; Boston topped Washington 4-2; Cleveland took the New York Yankees 5-1; Kansas City outscored Minnesota 9-8; Oakland edged the Chicago White Sox 1-0, and Seattle divided a pair with California, winning 5-2 after a 5-3 loss.

Blefary Scores

The Astros broke a 4-4 deadlock in the ninth when Curt Blefary singled, took second on a sacrifice, third on an infield out and then scored on Martinez' two-out single off reliever Cecil Upshaw.

Wynn drove in three Houston runs with a double and single. Hank Aaron slammed his 20th homer for the Braves.

Al Ferrara, a former Dodger, launched the Padres toward their skid-breaking victory with a three-run first inning homer off Don Sutton. Niekro scattered six Los Angeles hits for his first victory since May 31 and rookie John Sipin also homered for San Diego.

Jim Merritt hurled a six-hitter and Bob Tolan and Lee May hit homers as the Reds completed their sweep at Cincinnati after beating Giants ace Juan Marichal in the opener on Pete Rose's eighth inning homer.

Merritt 8-3

Tolan's three-run blast helped Merritt breeze to his eighth victory in 11 decisions. Rose's two-run wallop ended a string of nine straight wins for Marichal, 9-3, at Cincinnati.

Little Fred Patek smacked a decisive fifth inning homer as the Pirates broke a five-game losing string and extended the Mets' slide to three games. Steve Blass, 8-4, blanked New York on two hits until the ninth, when he got relief help from Joe Gibbon.

The Cardinals ruined Ken Holtzman's perfect game bid and beat the Chicago southpaw ace in the seventh inning on Vada Pinson's single, a wild pitch, a run-scoring single by Joe Torre and a triple by Mike Shannon.

Steve Carlton shut out the Cubs after the third inning and struck out 12 while boosting his record to 8-5.

Larry Hisle poled a three-run homer and then sent home the deciding run with a fourth in-

Quincy, Quad Cities Keep Pace With Wins

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — The Midwest League's first half title chase will go right down to the wire in tonight's final first half contests and even then a champion may not be decided.

Appleton, Quad Cities and Quincy all remained deadlocked for the lead after recording victories Friday night. Each owns a 34-19 mark.

Appleton grabbed a 7-0 lead, then held off a Wisconsin Rapids onslaught to win, 7-6. Quincy downed Burlington, 8-4, and Quad Cities beat Decatur, 10-6.

Each of the tri-leaders meets the same opponent tonight. If any team has an advantage, it is Quad Cities, the only one of the three playing at home.

It was 19-year-old Rich Moloney who saved the game for the Foxes. He came on with the bases loaded and no outs in the eighth. He got the first batter to hit into a doubleplay and struck out the next hitter. In the ninth he set down the side in order to preserve the win for starter Don Eddy.

The Foxes staked Eddy to a 5-0 lead before he ever took the mound in the first. Roger Reid singled leading off and Marty Morrison walked. George Hunter then doubled to plate both runners.

After Greg Howell walked, University of Michigan draft choice Glenn Redmon belted a home run over the left field fence. It was the rookies' first round-tripper since joining the Foxes early this week.

Appleton added its sixth marker in the fourth with two outs. Don Eddy doubled and Reid and Jim Redmon both walked to load the bases. Eddy then raced home on a wild pitch by Ted Remington.

In the seventh Reid walked, Jim Redmon singled and Morrison hit into a force play. Reid scored the eventual winning run on a groundout by Hunter.

The Twin tallied four times in the bottom of the inning after two were out. Two walks, a double and another walk send Eddy to the showers. Ron Foell greeted reliever Jim Limke with a double to plate two runs and the final scored on Limke's wild pitch.

Three consecutive singles loaded the bases in the eighth. Roger Benko came in and walked Bob Stevenson to force in one run. Maloney was called on and got Marv Danielson to hit into a double play with a run scoring. He fanned the next batter to end the inning.

The Foxes managed only five hits but all led to runs. Wisconsin Rapids collected nine hits.

The win was Eddy's eighth against two losses. He is now the Foxes' winningest pitcher.

To Become Pitching Coach

Johnny Podres Retires

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Johnny Podres failed in his attempt to pitch in the major leagues again but the hero of Brooklyn's only World Series triumph is still in baseball.

And thats what really matters to the little left-hander who was the toast of Flatbush and the baseball world in 1955 when he whipped the New York Yankees twice.

Podres, 36, was out of baseball in 1968. He couldn't land a job with a major league club after his release by the Detroit Tigers, who had acquired him from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But his old Dodger boss, Buzzie Bavasi, became president of the expansion San Diego Padres and gave him a chance to make a comeback in the National League.

It appeared Podres was going to take advantage of it, too, after he won his first game, a 2-0 decision over Houston on the season's second day.

Podres, who had won 148 and lost 116 in 14 seasons in the majors, was 5-6 with an earned run average of 4.29 Friday when San Diego took young catcher Walt Hriniak off the disabled list.

To make room for Hriniak, the Padres put Podres on the voluntary retired list, announcing he will be their minor league pitching instructor and a scout.

"I realized my pitching days were numbered," Podres said. "And this is a great opportunity for me to stay in baseball. That has always been my ambition.

'Naturally, I couldn't be happier than to remain with the Padre organization and with Mr. Bavasi, and be a part of building what I think will be one of the top organizations in baseball," Podres said.

Seymour, Marion Triumph

Meyer 'Perfect' as Menasha Macs Win

Southpay Bob Meyer hurled a 5-inning perfect game as the Menasha Macs bombed Reedsville, 13-0, in the District Semi-Pro Tournament at Clintonville Friday.

In another game at Clintonville, Seymour beat Antigo, 13-8. In contests at Marion, Oneida downed Tigerton, 10-4, and Marion stopped Bear Creek, 5-0.

Two more first round tilts are scheduled at each of the two sites this afternoon. Tonight, the Friday winners and this afternoon's victors will play another set of games.

Meyer received all the support he needed from Marc Hinske who cracked a grand slam homer in the second and also belted a double and triple. Bud Koehnke added three hits to the Menasha attack while Bill Gammey contributed a pair of safeties.

Jack Bennett had five hits in five at bats including a 2-run homer to lead Seymour's win. Lee Raddatz was the winning pitcher and Vic Johnson the loser.

Oneida's Tony Skenandore stopped Tigerton on just four hits. He fanned 13 and walked five. Oneida collected nine hits.

Ken Lodewegan yielded just two hits in shutting out Bear Creek. He struck out 10 and issued one walk. Marion had just four hits.

Fires 2nd Round 64

Coody 'Cleveland' Leader

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Charles Coody, the hottest item on the pro golf tour, held a whopping four - stroke lead going into today's third round of the Cleveland Open, but he's not about to spend the $22,000 first place prize yet.

"There's 36 holes to go," he said Friday after matching the Aurora Country Club course record with a six-under-par 64 that gave him a four-stroke lead at 131.

"There's a lot of players who still have a good shot at it.

"I learned about nine weeks ago that a tournament isn't over until the last putt drops.

"That was at Augusta, Ga., in the Masters. I had the lead in the final round standing on the 16th tee. And I finished with three straight bogeys."

Dallas Win

Coody, a 6-foot-2 Texan whose only tour victory was the 1964 Dallas Open, tied the low 36 holes on the tour this year and now is a fantastic 17 under par for his last three rounds. He had a final round 65, seven-under-par in the Kemper Open last week, finishing second to Dale Douglass.

John Schlee and Bruce Crampton shared second place at 135, each with a second round 66. Jim Colbert, who played with Crampton and traded some words with the transplated Australian over slow play, was alone in fourth place at 136. He had a second-round 67.

Tommy Aaron, 67, and George Hixon, 70, followed at 138. Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the games two greatest names, made minor rallies and each vowed they would once again get their games in shape.

Palmer birdied his last three holes, on putts of 15, 25 and 20 feet, for a 69 and 143.

"I haven't made three putts in a row like that in two years," he said, then reconsidered. "Three years, four years. Make it five years."

'I'll Be Back'

"I'll get it back. I thought I had it back early this week. I don't know where or when it will be, but I'll get it back."

Nicklaus had a 68 for 141, despite bogeys on his last two holes.

"I played the last two like an idiot," the Golden Bear said. "It was ridiculous. I was going along fine, could have been shooting a 66, then I lost my concentration. But things are improving. It may be a week, it may be a month, it may be two months, but it'll come around."

All-Star Game to Highlight Runners

ATLANTA (AP) — Eugene "Mercury" Morris, powerful Paul Gipson and Bill "Earthquake" Enyart—overshadowed as running backs by O. J. Simpson last fall—get their shot at glory tonight.

Simpson, Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California, is skipping the ninth annual Coaches All-America Game because he has not signed a pro contract, so the trio of hard-running football players will be spotlighted.

Morris, West Texas State standout who is the NCAA's all-time rushing leader with 3,388 yards, gained 1,598 yards running last season. Gipson picked up 1,550 yards for Houston, and Enyart rushed for 1,304 yards for Oregon State.

All three will be running for the West in the all-star battle in hot, muggy Atlanta Stadium.

Kickoff for the game, which will be nationally televised by ABC-TV, will be at 7:30 p.m., CST.

The West's running attack has been singled out as the probable difference in the teams, with both the East and West boasting sturdy defenses.

West Coach Pepper Rodgers of Kansas thinks his running attack is as strong as he has ever seen, with Morris, Gipson and Enyart all impressive in workouts.

Biggest drawback for the three runners, however, could be the heat. Temperatures are expected to be around 90 degrees at the kickoff.

Gipson is the man most Georgians will be watching because he riddled the University of Georgia's defenses the past two years, gaining more than 230 yards rushing each time against the Bulldogs.

With Falcons

The 195-pound runner will play for the Atlanta Falcons. Morris, stubby native of Pittsburgh, has signed with the Miami Dolphins, and Enyart will play pro football with the Buffalo Bills, the team that still is trying to get Simpson to come to terms.

The East—coached by Joe Paterno of Penn State is counting on passers Marty Domres of Columbia and Buster O'Brien of Richmond to offset the West's running power. Bobby Douglass of Kansas and Ed Hargett of Texas A&M will direct the West.

Joe Louis Checks Out Of Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, was released from Beekman Downtown Hospital Friday night, 31 hours after he collapsed on a lower Manhattan street.

A hospital spokesman said Louis signed himself out at 7 p.m. and was placed in the care of his own physician, who had flown in from Detroit.

It was not immediately known where Louis, 55, headed but it was believed that the former champion planned to return to Detroit for further medical tests.

Louis collapsed after taping a television program shortly before noon Thursday. He was taken to the hospital's intensive care section where he was later found to be in satisfactory condition.

Blair, McNally Key Oriole Win

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

The Detroit Tigers may be the first third-place team in baseball history with a magic number.

"I said we had to win six of eight games from Baltimore this weekend and next to gain significant ground," said Mayo Smith, manager of the beleaguered world champions, after the Orioles made off with a 4-1 victory Friday night. "Now it's six out of seven."

Unbeaten Dave McNally and Paul Blair were too much for the Tigers. McNally notched his 11th victory of the season with a five-hitter, setting a club record of 13 consecutive triumphs, counting two at the tag end of last season. And Blair cracked his 17th homer, a two-run shot in the second inning.

The victory gave the Orioles a 53-20 record and left them nine games ahead of Boston in the American League East, while the Tigers dropped 12½ games back.

Elsewhere in the AL, Boston trimmed Washington 4-2, Oakland vaulted back into first place in the West by one-half game by nipping the Chicago White Sox 1-0 while Minnesota was losing to Kansas City 9-8, Cleveland drubbed the New York Yankees 5-1 and California and Seattle split a twi-nighter, the Angels winning 5-3, then losing 5-2.

The Orioles unloaded quickly on Detroit starter Earl Wilson. Blair walked in the first inning, Frank Robinson was hit by a pitch, Boog Powell singled in one run and Dave Johnson doubled home another. In the second, Don Buford doubled and Blair homered.

What will the Tigers do if they cant chip away at Baltimore's lead?

"We'll just keep playing," said Smith. "What the hell, strange things happen in this game. If you don't think you can come back, you may as well take off your uniform and never put it on again. But we've got to get good pitching."

Smith said Johnson's run-scoring double should have been fielded by Ike Brown and noted that Willie Horton lost Buford's double in the lights.

"When you're going good, that's how things happen," he said. "That's the way they went for us last season."

Reggie Smith batted in two runs with a single and his 13th home run and Bill Landis and Sparky Lyle combined for a six-hitter as the Red Sox beat Washington. Landis, making his first start in just over one year, hurled six innings and gave up three hits and one run, Brant Alyea's ninth homer.

Score Hit on Error

Oakland, held to one hit for seven innings by Billy Wynne, pushed across an eighth-inning run on an infield hit and a throwing error to edge the White Sox as John "Blue Moon" Odom fired a four-hitter for his 10th victory.

Larry Haney opened the eighth with a single and Odom sacrificed. With two out, third baseman Bill Melton fielded Ted Kubiak's infield hit and threw past first as pinch runner Jim Hunter scored.

Joe Foy singled home the tying run and Hawk Taylor singled in the winner as Kansas City rallied for two in the ninth to overtake Minnesota. The Twins built a 6-1 lead on three-run homers by Tony Oliva and Rich Reese, but the Royals clawed back with two in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Sam McDowell scattered five hits and struck out 12, pushing his career total past the 1,500 mark, in hurling Cleveland past the Yankees. It was the left

All-Star Balloting Should be Returned To Fans, Kuhn Says

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said Friday he hopes the selection of players for the annual All-Star game can be returned to the fans next year.

Presently the players select the All-Star game starters.

Kuhn said at a news conference that one reason the fans were not allowed to pick the players this year was because the "greatest player ever" contest being conducted could cause confusion.

A way must also be found to keep a balance in the voting so fans in one city could not stuff the ballot box, which was done once in Cincinnati, he said.

Gonzales, Ashe Square Off Today

Y GEOFFREY MILLER

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) Pancho Gonzales, aiming to Wimbledon champion at 41, ced Arthur Ashe today in the last critical match of his wearying week of tennis.

If he gets over that hurdle, old Pancho—a gray-haired grandfather—can look forward to some days of rest between the remaining rounds.

When Gonzales defeated Tom Edlefsen of Berkeley, Calif., 6-4, 6-3, 6-3 Friday to reach the last 16, it was his fourth straight day of strenuous singles play.

Normally the players are given a free day between each round of the men's singles. But the opening day was washed out by rain, and Gonzales then ran into the longest match in Wimbledon history—the fantastic 112-game marathon against Charlie Pasarell which started Tuesday and ran through most of Wednesday afternoon. So he has had to keep ging day after day.

"I've been going to bed early, and practising gently for an hour each morning before coming to Wimbledon," the veteran from Los Angeles said. "I won't deny I've been tired—especially after the match against Pasarell—but I've got my second wind now."

Gonzales is free of doubles play. He and his partner, Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., were knocked out in the first round.

Today's winners will move into the quarter-finals. The rest of the men's singles events will be nicely spaced out—the quarter-finals on Monday, the semi-finals Wednesday and the final next Friday.

Gonzales, seeded No. 12, is favored by many experts to beat Ashe, the fifth seed.

Ashe, reigning U.S. Open champion from Gum Spring, Va., has had a thin time touring Europe this year and has shown patchy form at Wimbledon this week. Two of his matches — against Terry Ryan of South Africa and Graham Stillwell of Britain—went to five sets. Ashe recovered against Ryan after trailing by two sets to love.

Besides Gonzales and Ashe, the United States has four other men in the last 16—Stan Smith and Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, Clark Graebner of New York and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.

Win Over Cubs Gives Cards Big Lift

BY JOE MOOSHILL

CHICAGO (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals are two games under .500 and 11 behind the front-running Chicago Cubs in the National League East but they seem to feel they might finally have something going.

After wrecking Ken Holtzman's bid for a perfect game with a 3-1 victory Friday in the opener of a four-game series with the Cubs, the Cardinals are itching for a sweep which might get the club out of the doldrums.

"It's good to win the first one," said Manager Red Schoendienst. "Now we have to win the first three. If we do and then win the fourth, it could pick us up and get us rolling. We need something to pick us up.

"We can't afford to split this series with them because that would leave us right back where we came in with four less games against the team we have to catch."

12 Cubs Fan

Steve Carlton struck out 12 and scattered 10 hits as he fired an exhausting 153 pitches.

'I'd never been in a perfect game before," needled Carlton "And the way that one ended, it was a perfect game—for me."

Carlton said he had trouble with his curve ball early in the game and went strictly with his fast ball and slider.

"Then I started using my curve in the late innings and it helped because it was something they hadn't seen in the early innings.'

With the exception of Lou Brock and Curt Flood, the Cards were joyous over spoiling Holtzman's no-hit bid and winning the game.

With two out in the seventh, Vada Pinson singled on a 1-2 pitch and took second on a wild pitch. Joe Torre singled Pinso home with the tying run and scored the winning run moments later on Mike Shannon's triple. Brock's run-scoring double provided insurance in the eighth.

Rough Treatment

Brock and Flood were concerned over treatment of visiting outfielders from fans in the bleachers.

"All that rooting, cheering and hollering is fine," said Flood, "it's great for the game. But when they start throwing things that's going too far.

"I was ducking ball bearings, flashlight batteries, fruit and even a quarter went whizzing by my ear," said Flood. "I've got five kids to feed and if something hits me in the eye it could end my career."

"It's not fair to the players," said Brock. "We're trying to get the job done and give them their money's worth. All we want is a fair shake."

Joe Will Keep Club

Namath Wants to be Shown What's Wrong

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — Joe Namath of the New York Jets insists he will retain his interest in a New York night spot "until somebody shows me where there's something wrong."

The star quarterback, who announced his retirement from pro football after being ordered to divert himself of interest in Bachelor's III, said Friday he would "like to keep both football and my club."

"However, I repeat, if it comes to choosing one over the other, I'll keep my club," he told a news conference after arriving to serve as an instructor at a football camp for youths.

Namath, who met with Pro Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle Thursday in a standoff over the night club directive, said that no one has proved Bachelor's III is frequented by undesirables and he will retain his interest until proof is given.

"If that means that I will have to forfeit my football contract, that's what I intend to do," Namath said.

Namath said he realizes he will be unable to match his football salary with earnings from the club in the next couple of years. However, he added, "over the long run we figure to make money, especially since we plan on erecting a few more clubs in other parts of the country."

Frazier-Quarry Bout Sets Up Series of Hot Matches for Promoters

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Joe Frazier-Jerry Quarry spectacular has spawned a series of hot matches for boxing promoters.

Frazier vs. Cassius Clay, Frazier vs. Ellis, Ellis vs. Sonny Liston, and Quarry against light heavyweight champion Bob Foster, Oscar Bonavena or Floyd Patterson, were among the matches being discussed today.

The key to the heavyweight title clashes is Frazier, the unbeaten, six-state heavyweight king who stopped Quarry in seven rounds of a title slugfest at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Ellis, the World Boxing Association champion from Louisville, Ky., and his manager Angelo Dundee, said again that "we want Frazier," and the Garden said it wants the match for October.

Does Business

Frazier, of Philadelphia, said 'Yank does the business."

Yank Durham, Frazier's manager and trainer, said, "we want Clay if the government turns him loose. That's the big money match we want. We'll wait 30 days to see what happens to Clay. We're not going to rush into anything. But if nothing happens with Clay then maybe we'll take that tuneup with Ellis."

"Tuneup?" said Ellis. "That man is kidding. He knows I'll beat his man."

"We're ready to sign for Frazier right now," said Dundee. "But we're not going to wait forever. We've got a fight with Sonny Liston in the making for Los Angeles, Las Vegas or Houston in late July or early August."

Will Not Fight

Clay, appealing his draft evasion conviction, has said repeatedly that he will not fight again.

"I don't think he will," said Ellis, Clay's former sparring partner and longtime friend. "He's been coming on very strong on not fighting again."

Liston, the 37-year-old exchampion, has won 13 straight since he was knocked out in the first round by Clay in their second title fight four years ago.

The Frazier-Quarry fight drew 16,570 customers and $502,518 at the gate. The closed circuit television and other ancillar rights, including Saturday's taped telecast on ABC's Wide World of Sports program, probably will add another $500,000 to the promotion, making it a $1 million affair.

"Frazier and Ellis would match that at least," said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing. "It's a red hot fight and we'd like to make it.

Use Him Again

"Quarry is hot, too, off his great performance, and we have plans to use him again. We have in mind Bob Foster, Oscar Bonavena and Floyd Patterson —if Floyd wants to fight again."

Jerry's right eye was closed. He had eight stitches in a gash under the eye. His nose was puffy and his left eye was swollen and purplish.

The 24-year-old California blond looked like he had fallen down an elevator shaft but he was as gay as a winner.

"Everytime I look at this," he said, pointing to his shut eye, "I'll start counting dollars."

Miss Prentice Has One-Stroke Margin In U.S. Open Meet

By SHEILA MORAN

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)) Shapely Joann Prentice had steel nerves, a hot putter, her brother's counsel, and a one stroke lead going for her as she moved into today's third round of the Women's Open Golf Championship.

"I've led in too many tournaments to get excited about this one," said the 36-year-old, 13-year veteran from Birmingham, Ala., who takes lessons from her older brother.

"I've always been a pretty good putter," she said, "but I go to my brother every April for lessons. He helps me with my timing, position, things like that."

95 Degrees

Joann kept her cool in 95-degree heat while others wilted, needing just 28 putts for her two-under par 71 for 144 and a one-stroke margin over plucky veteran Ruth Jessen in this most coveted of all women's golf championships.

The placid Miss Prentice is one of the most consistent players on the LPGA tour and, with a look resembling Julie Andrews one of the prettiest. Although she has not won a tournament in two years, she usually is high in the money. She has banked more than $8,000 in events since January and her career earnings total more than $100,000.

Her best open finish was a tie for second with Miss Jessen in 1962 at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

"I think we're both due for a victory," Miss Jessen said.

Miss Jessen's knife-straight approaches to the small subbaked greens showed she is regaining form after a bout with cancer last year and recalled her brilliant iron play of a decade ago when she garnered most of her career earnings of $116,000, 10th on the all-time list.

The longest of her three birdie putts for 72 Friday was a four footer.

Three-Back

Peggy Wilson, 34-year-old former physical education teacher, whose 71 led the first round, was three shots off the pace at 147. Hard-luck Shirley Englehorn, a 10-year pro who overcame two crippling accidents in 1960 and 1965 to continue a brilliant career, and 32-year-old Sandra Spuzich, the 1966 open champ, were next at 148. Sandra Haynie, who has won just about everything except the Open in her nine years on the tour, had 73 for 149, along with 43-year-old Sybil Griffin, winless in a 13-year career. Miss Griffin posted 76.

Veteran Patty Berg, who won the first Open in 1946, shot 82 for 160 and missed the cut for the first time in 15 years. A score of 158 or better was needed to qualify for the final rounds and 36 professionals and seven amateurs made it.
